COUNTY POLITICS.

Senator Ingalls' Brilliant Oratory!

Democratic Senatorial Trickery.

Not an Unusual Thing.

Since the Democrats have come into power they have raised a terrible hue and cry about the bankrupt treasury, etc. They think by so doing to blind the average citizen and hoodwink him into the belief that the Republican party, while in power, looted the treasury, robbed the county, and played the devil everywhere. This is the state of affairs that the Democratic party leaders would have the public believe the Republican officials left as their record for the past three years. There is nothing more unfair or false.

It may be true, as they allege, that there is not just now any county funds on hand, but this is not an unusual thing. If any person will take the trouble to refer back for the past twenty years they will find lots of times, as proven by the treasurer's accounts—when the officials were Democratic—when there was not a cent of county money in the treasury. But if there is no money on hand now, the assets are large enough, and in a few weeks more there will be ten thousand dollars on hand.

But again, it must not be understood that there is no money in the county treasury, for there is; and a good round sum, too. Twenty thousand dollars of it. But it belongs to the different townships as road, poor and school fund, and is being held in trust for the townships by the county just as any bank in Bellefonte holds deposits in trust for the depositor. In the past this money was always used to pay county orders when there was no money on hand belonging to the county, and nothing was ever thought of it. It was used in the same way a banker uses money deposited with his bank. But the new treasurer refuses to draw on this fund; and for what reason?

Not because of the moral responsibility. Oh, no! But simply to make political capital, to accommodate certain bankers in Bellefonte who are trying hard to get the county to borrow the money needed of them, at a big rate of interest—that must be paid by the tax payer—and thus throw additional burden on all. But there is still another reason: From the way the thing has started out, the number of hungry mouths there are clamoring for a slice, the great number of applicants for a living from the public crib, it is very evident to the county officials that all cannot be accommodated on the very low rate of tax that was established under the Republican government. The millage must be increased; already it is being discussed as to how much, and it is safe to say that no less than three mills will be laid the coming year, and may be three and-a-half But to do this there must be an excuse. If there was not why it would be good-bye "Demy's." So they have started in on a bankrupt treasury; the treasurer refuses to pay orders because he has no funds; they want to borrow several thousand dollars for six months or a year, pay big interest and leave the rest of it lay in the bank to be used again by those who loaned it.

But how economical they are in other things. They only want to pay about two-thirds price for election blanks—work that cannot be done by the party printers in Bellefonte—while they pay price and half price for all ordinary commercial printing. They now want to dispose of the county detective and thus save $240 per year, and they have already quit furnishing ice for the cooler in their office. They have about given up the hunt for the murderer Wilson because it costs a little money, and they are now considering the advisability of acting janitor for their office and thus save $1.50 per month.

Now this is economy, and economy with a vengeance. But while they are thus economizing they are taking good care to put in very full time, neither of them having, as yet, missed a day. But time proves all things. Wait and see.

John J. Ingalls.

Senator Ingalls delivered one of his characteristic speeches in the U. S. Senate on Friday last, which, according to a private dispatch, attracted more attention than any speech delivered in Congress for the past thirty years. For two hours he held his audience spell-bound with his matchless eloquence, reminding the older members of the immortal speech of Webster when he annihilated Haynes, of South Carolina.

And yet this masterly orator, this ripe and finished statesmen, this true and unfaltering leader, this steadfast friend of the battle-scarred heroes who saved the nation in its hour of peril, is assailed by enemies in the rear, and from present indications the position he has so long filled with such honor to himself, his State and the nation, will soon be occupied by an unknown who, in all probability, will never be heard from except on the roll-call. In view of what is likely to occur in his case, the public will fully agree with him that "ignorant and indifferent suffrage" is one of the two great evils generated by our form of government. While one may not endorse his views in full, all will admit that his speech was a model of vigor, fresh from the lips of an able statesman, representing the highest type of resolute and agressive manhood. The name of Kansas has been potent at the council board of the nation through the genius of her brilliant son, John J. Ingalls, but that potency disappears when he lays down the toga of office and retires to private life. It is a crime in some of the States to attempt to commit suicide; Kansas suicides when she strikes down Senator Ingalls, and let this prediction be recorded and remembered in the future.

A Bit of Sharp Practice.

The Democrats of the State Senate have not reflected any credit upon themselves by conspiring together to defeat certain nominations made by Governor Beaver. The Republicans were caught napping, but they were justified in assuming that their opponents would not try to defeat the confirmation of the appointments which are confessedly within the privilege of the outgoing Governor to make. It requires a two-thirds vote to confirm, which preponderance the Republicans do not now posses, and because of this the Democrats seem determined to defeat such appointments as they are desirous of having turned over to the incoming Governor.

It is charged that the Republicans have been remiss in not securing a leader in the Senate ere this, and in not acting upon the assumption that the Democrats would do as they are doing and threaten to do. The Republicans will do everything in their power to secure the desired confirmations, and if they fail they will have a good excuse for following the precedent which the Democrats are about to establish when Governor Pattison has important nominations pending. Threats are already made by Republicans that when the time comes they will retaliate. It is not to be presumed that the new Governor is a party to this conspiracy, and he should use his influence to secure fair play in the matter.

State Arsenal Keeper, J. J. Mahoney Found Dead.

A Legal Suicide.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 19.—James T. Joyce, a Denver murderer, was executed at Canon City yesterday for the murder of John Snooks in Denver last fall. Under the State law all executions must be conducted in secrecy, consequently it is impossible to learn the particulars of the event. Warden Lamping, of the penitentiary, at this execution used an arrangement whereby one commits suicide instead of being hanged. The apparatus for self execution is the invention of a Vermont schoolmaster. The device is a queer one. There is a gauge consisting of two buckets, one set above the other. When the cork is pulled out of the upper bucket it pours its contents into the lower one and raises a float which regulates a dial in the execution chamber. At the same time the water foaming out of the upper bucket at the end of a specific time releases a ball weighing twenty-nine pounds, which falls and pulls the trigger, letting the weight fall and jerking the victim upon the scaffold into the air.

Tins Made in America.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Tin saucepans, pails, buckets, and other household articles made of tin, as well as square plates of tin, covered the long table of the House Committee on Ways and Means the last two days of the week. Representative Niedringhaus, of Missouri, was in the room most of the time, and he explained to all inquirers the reason for the changed appearance of the room.

The tins are samples of those which are being turned out every day at the works in St. Louis and are wholly of American manufacture. The original work was done in the steel mills of Chattanooga and the tinning in St. Louis. The plant has only recently been established and is turning out about 300 cases of tin plate per day. The ore comes from the Dutch Islands, and the price of the manufactured article is about the same as when imported.

A Great Plate Glass Factory,

PITTSBURG, Jan. 19.—There is now in course of erection at Irwin Pa., one of the largest plate glass plants in America. The firm will be known as the Pennsylvania Plate Glass Co., and has as its backer a well-known New York banker, who desires his name withheld at present. The contract for the building and its equipments has been awarded to the New York firm of A. C. Boyd & Co. Mr. Boyd has had much experience in the construction of plate glass plants, having personally supervised the building of the Tarentum and Howard plants, located in Allegheny county. Over six hundred men will be employed, and the outlay will amount to over $1,000,000.

Boyd Recognized as Governor.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 19.—By a vote of 14 to 13 the Senate yesterday passed a resolution recognizing James E. Boyd as Governor without prejudice to Powers' contest. This is the first action in either branch of the Legislature to recognize him as Governor. Next Tuesday was the day appointed to hear the contest.

Wages Reduced at Johnstown.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 18.—An order has been issued to the employes of the Cambria Iron Company stating that their wages would be reduced ten per cent. on February 1. This reduction includes 5,000 men from iron workers to miners in their employ.

DEAD ON THE SUSQUEHANNA!

State Arsenal Keeper Maloney Found Dead This Morning.

A special from Harrisburg says that State Arsenal Keeper J. J. Maloney was found lying dead on the banks of the Susquehanna river there this morning. The cause of his death is a profound mystery. His watch was stopped at 4:20 o'clock.

Ex-Gov. Thayer Insane.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 19.—The long vigil of Ex-Governor Thayer during the exciting scenes of the opening of the Legislature, when he remained in his apartments eighty hours for the purpose of keeping out Gov. Boyd, has resulted in a dangerous attack of nervous prostration. To-night the ex-Governor is a raving maniac, and his physicians say his condition is alarming, owing to his age. He is nearly seventy years old.

A Sensible View of it.

That versatile newspaper writer, "Forgeman," of Howard, writes to the Tyrone Herald as follows regarding the present depressed condition of all kinds of business:

"The depression that at present characterizes the iron industries of the country in contrast with the great prosperity that followed immediately after the Republican victory in '88, is at once a proof that the great Democratic gain last fall was a terrible loss to both capital and labor in Pennsylvania, at least. We need not go away from home for proof of this; the withering effect is seen and felt right at our doors. If Republicans had remained loyal this state of affairs would not now exist. They see it now when it is too late. If they had viewed it from a common sense standpoint before the election, they would not now be going with their heads bowed down like a bull rushing, mourning like a wounded dove, and chattering like a sick swallow.

They have got us all in a fix, like the Irishman was in when he married the woman "for better or for worse," and in a few short months applied for a divorce on the ground that it was all worse and no better.

To make it still more plain, so that nobody can understand it, Congress has a high old time monkeying with the Silver Bill. This seems to be one of the leading topics of the day everywhere. Even here at Howard, these long winter evenings, one hears nothing else discussed.

Just why it is so the writer is not prepared to say, knowing that we are not hampered with silver in any shape to any dangerous extent. One thing is certain, however, and that is if the Government buys up bullion (as the bill proposes) at 129 cents an ounce, and disposes of it at 105 cents, somebody is going to be left badly, and it won't be the fellow that sells the bullion, either. But then what can you expect of a set of fellows who always hitch a horse in a cart with "tother" end the other way.

This is about enough politics at this writing. If those fellows can stand it we will have to. We will, therefore, wait, grin, scratch and bear till the great Republican uprising in '92, when the monetary and industrial avenues will all again be thrown open and every man again receive his portion in due season.

"BREVITY is the soul of wit." Those who read Governor Pattison's inaugural address will fail to find much wit therein if weighed in the above balance.

The Financial Condition.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20, 1891.

Very naturally, after two successive weeks of important advance in the price of securities, we have had during the past week a general downward reaction. One motive for selling was that holders prudently preferred to pocket their handsome profits on the rise; another, that as the Western Railroad Association had completed its agreements and organization, no further advantage to prices could be expected at present from that cause; another, that London has shown some disposition to unload stocks upon New York, and that the Bank of England did not further lower its rate of discount on Thursday as was here expected; another, that dealers usually advise the realizing of profits after a good advance; and yet another, that the excitement attending the termination of the Sugar Trust receivership has pretty well subsided.

The market has thus safely accomplished one well sustained upward bound; and, allowing for the reaction of the past week, prices have made an apparently solid recovery of seven to eight points from the figures at the beginning of December. The recovery has come from no special effort at steaming up, but has been the result of a general recovery of confidence and of a liberal accession of outside orders. Such an extent of recovery, within such a brief period, and so soon after the crisis, is more than has been generally expected, and it has produced an impression that the late demoralization was not so deep-rooted as has been supposed, and that it has produced much less impairment of confidence and of buying ability than has been imagined to exist. In fact, the market is no longer regarded as a feeble and maimed one, but as buoyant with a steady confidence and prepared to respond readily to any influence calculated to affect values. In fact, the market shows more speculative interest and courage than it did long before the panic was foreseen or dreamed of. Values are regarded with all the more confidence for having been so severely tested. Operators feel that there are no undiscovered pitfalls around, that affairs generally have been placed upon a sounder basis, and that, according to all experience under like circumstances, the preponderate future tendency of prices must be upward, excepting of course the transient reactions with which all rising movements are attended. To this important extent, the situation is naturally "bullish," and is likely to remain preponderately so for an indefinite period.

At the moment, the market is taking a breathing spell, encouraged by the new satisfaction over the "bull" profits, but waiting for some new reason for buying. No such reason is immediately in sight, except that the recovery of tone and confidence in business at large, becomes each week more distinct and general, which is calculated to have a benefit in sustaining, if not in further advancing prices. It becomes more and more apparent that the crisis, in its bearings on the general trade of the country, has amounted to rather a transient sympathetic shock than a bona fide earthquake, and that its indirect effects are likely to be soon succeeded by a healthier confidence than existed before its occurrence. This is a factor which has scarcely yet had its full effect in the Stock Exchange.

The action of the silver men in trying to force free coinage before securing the engagement of the great European nations to adopt a similar course is blindly suicidal to the trade interest they are seeking to foster at the nation's expense. They are urging the Government to bring about a European agreement to that effect, and seemingly with far better chances of success than have attended previous efforts in that direction. But by securing the adoption of free coinage in advance of such negotiations, they virtually nullify every motive for foreign governments to co-operate for the restoration of the status of silver. They are holding out to European powers the strongest of all possible inducements to avail themselves of our premature action for exchanging their silver for America's gold and to change their attitude from a willingness to fortify the double standard to the policy of placing Europe on the exclusive gold basis and leaving the United States, in company with India, China and South America, an exclusively silver nation. It would thus be to the last degree perilous to adopt free coinage until it can be done in conjunction with like action by the leading European nations. If, on the contrary, Congress should refuse to adopt free coinage until Europe consents to take like action, the consequent pressure upon the foreign powers would be calculated to bring them to terms; when we should, as a matter of course, be committed to free coinage, and under conditions that would eliminate all danger from the silver question. It is inconceivable why the silver men should persist in conducting their case with such a blind disregard of statesmanly tact and prudence. If, however, we must have free coinage, why not adopt it for a period of two years, subject to the condition that, if at the expiration of that time an international compact for restoring silver to its former status has not been concluded, then free coinage shall be discontinued? That would be a great help to negotiations with the European governments.

The currency movement continues to run largely in favor of this city. During the past week there has been a net gain for the banks, upon the movement with the interior of about $5,250,000, and upon their transactions with the Sub-Treasury of about $2,000,000, while $205,000 gold has come in from Europe; making a total gain in currency of $7,500,000 during the week. HENRY CLEWS.

CAMERON ELECTED.

He Receives a Large Majority in Both Houses of the Legislature

HARRISBURG, Jan. 20.—The vote for United States Senator this afternoon was:

House—Cameron 113, Black 77, Taggart 7, Theodore Flood 4, Judge White 1.

Senate—Cameron 31, Black 15, J. C. Sibley 1; three Democrats not voting.

A joint convention will meet tomorrow to confirm the action of the two branches.

The Spring Election.

The time is drawing near for the regular February election of township and borough officers. In the borough there should be a more united effort on the part of the Republicans to elect their ticket. In the first place there should be a careful selection made of the very best men to put on the ticket and then there would be no trouble in electing them. From Chief Burgess down the Republicans could and should elect every man. As yet there are few men spoken of for the respective offices, aside from S. D. Ray, Esq., who will again be a candidate for tax collector. Mr. Ray has made a very efficient collector, and the Republicans should unite in giving him a good round majority. Then there is overseer of the poor. The Republican party can just as easy as not elect both overseers as one and every man should see to it that such a thing was done. Go to work now and get everything in good shape for a complete victory in February.

Dated Turtles.

There is a well grounded and popular belief that our tortoise lives to a vast age, and numerous cases of turtles bearing dates over a century old have been cited, says the Popular Science Monthly. There was, until 1886, in the neighborhood of the writer's home in New Jersey, an old tortoise which had been marked by Mr. Cyrus Durand, inventor of the geometric lathe. It bore the inscription, "C. D., 1866," clearly cut with a graver on its under shell. As the tortoise had been observed from year to year from the time of its marking by the most trustworthy witnesses, there is no doubt that the date was genuine.

This tortoise has not been seen since 1886, and has probably died. Another, which has been observed for the past ten years, was marked with the inscription, "C. B., 1849," as the letters and dates were so much worn as to be but faintly discernible, they were no doubt reliable. The old animal was found for the last time, dead, in the summer of 1889. Another, bearing the date 1851, is still alive. Assuming that the tortoises were full grown, or about twenty years old when marked, we are safe in stating the period of their lives at from sixty to seventy years. No doubt some individual may reach a century or over.

Unfortunately for science, it is a common sport for the country urchin to engrave tortoises with dates varying from forty to fifty years previous to the artist's birth. This, however, can easily be detected, for the inscription becomes very faint after about thirty years of rubbing over the ground.

If You Had a Friend

About to visit some section of the country where malarial disease, either; in the form of chills and fever or bilious remittent was particularly rife, what would be about the best advice you could give him? We will tell you—to carry along, or procure on arriving, that potent medicinal safeguard, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, known throughout malaria plagued regions, here and in other countries, as the surest means of disarming the miasmatic scourge, and robbing it of its fell destructive influence. Not only does it fortify the system by increasing its stamina, but overcomes irregularity of digestion, the liver and the bowels, and counteracts the unfavorable effects of over exertion, bodily and mental exposure in rough weather, or occupation too sedentary or laborious, loss of appetite and excessive nervousness. The functions of alimentation, bilious secretion and sleep have in it a most powerful and reliable auxiliary.

It Might Be Him.

The man arrested at Mahaffey is still being held as John Wilson. Word was telegraphed the commissioners that a man answering Wilson's description was under arrest held for further identification. The commissioners concluded that enough money had already been spent sending parties out to identify suspects and they would take no account of this one. A telephone dispatch Wednesday evening late stated that the man answered the description so completely that he was believed to be Wilson. The authorities are still holding him.

TO CONSUMPTIVES.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease 'Consumption," is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which will find a sure cure for Consumption, Asthma, Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung Maladies. He hopes all sufferers will try his Remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing and may prove a blessing, will please address REV. EDWARD A. WILTON, Williamsburg, Kings County, New York.

PURIFY THE BLOOD WITH

Brown's Sarsaparilla

The mortality in large cities is due to the fact that bad food, bad air, and bad habits have made bad blood. From the largest bone down to the smallest hair, the whole body is fed, supplied with new material, kept alive and healthy by the flow of blood. In fact it is the most important part of the system.

Indeed, it is claimed there can be no disease, save an occasional brain trouble, when the blood is pure and flowing free.

Brown's Sarsaparilla purifies and enriches the blood and invigorates the entire system.

The Subsidy and Anti-Subsidy Lobbies Exchange Compliments.

BRIBERY RECRIMINATIONS.

Each Side Openly Making Charges Against the Other, but Both Wax Prosperous. Carlisle Doesn't Read the Papers. Senator Hearst Improving.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The fight on the subsidy bill has reached its height in the largest lobby that has been seen here for years swarming about the Capitol. The members of the subsidy lobby, who have been pretty roughly handled by the press, are now charging that there is also as strong a lobby as themselves employed by those interested in free ships to fight the bill. Each is openly charging the other with bribery.

This bill will be disposed of, one way or another, on Tuesday, which fact will be greatly lamented by the proprietors of the leading public resorts, for the lobbyists have been living high, and champagne has flowed as freely as water, while canvasback ducks have been as common an article of food as bacon is among the colored population. It is also a notable fact that since the bill has been up some of the old time lobbyists that for a year or more have presented a seedy appearance have blossomed out in fashionable attire.

Carlisle Surprised.

Some of the ablest and most conspicuous members of congress seldom read the daily newspapers, and there seems to be a mystery as to how they keep up with the times. It is often said by those who are acquainted with Senator Carlisle that his knowledge comes from inspiration instead of from reading. Your correspondent heard a Kentucky congressman Monday say that he visited Mr. Carlisle's house Sunday night, and referred to the fact that the Kentucky Democracy had selected Col. Henry Watterson to represent them on the national committee.

Senator Carlisle expressed surprise at hearing this, and asked whose place Mr. Watterson had taken. He was told that he had taken the place of Col. McHenry. Then the senator asked what had become of McHenry, who was one of the leading men of his party in the "Bluegrass" state.

"Why, he is dead, and all the papers had a long account of his demise," said the congressman.

"Oh, Senator Carlisle never reads the newspapers, you know," spoke up Mrs. Carlisle.

Personal Chat.

There are a large number of visitors at present in this city, and none of them is attracting more attention than the bright young journalist Arthur Brisbane, the editor of The New York Evening Sun. Mr. Brisbane is a favorite with all the leaders of society here. It is stated by some of his friends that the announcement of his marriage to the daughter of one of the wealthiest and best known citizens in Chicago will soon be made public. The young lady is at present visiting in the city.

Members of Senator Hearst's family reported the senator's condition Monday much improved. On Sunday the senator partook of solid nourishment with relish.

The Growing Treasury Surplus.

Secretary Windom is authority for the statement that the growing treasury surplus cannot now be used in the purchase of 4 per cent. bonds, for the reason that it will be needed to meet pension payments due next month aggregating $25,000,000. The available cash surplus is now $18,000,000, but by continued excess of receipts over expenditures it will probably reach the required amount by the time indicated.

The secretary is of opinion that the business of the country would be improved by making these pension payments monthly instead of quarterly, as at present, and he has made a recommendation to that effect to the proper congressional committees. If this is done, he says, it will do away with the necessity of keeping a large sum of money in the treasury vaults for three months, when it might just as well be in the hands of the people entitled to it.

Commander Reiter's Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The case of Commander Reiter is now in the hands of Secretary Tracy officially. It excites much interest in naval circles because of the peculiar circumstances surrounding it, and the anomalous position it occupies.

Secretary Tracy reprimanded Commander Reiter for his action, or lack of action, in the Barrundia affair, and now Commander Reiter demands a court martial to determine whether his conduct was not proper. It is said at the navy department that a court martial will probably be accorded him.

In that case, if the court martial justifies Commander Reiter in his conduct in the Barrundia affair, it will by implication censure Secretary Tracy for having reprimanded the officer when he should not have been reprimanded.

On the other hand, if it condemns Commander Reiter, it will be adding a punishment as well as approving the reprimand, and whatever the conclusion of the court, the reprimand of Secretary Tracy, as the official head of the navy, will stand as the official utterance of the navy department as to Commander Reiter's conduct.

Quay's Substitute Elections Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—Mr. Quay introduced in the senate a substitute to the federal elections bill Monday. The principal point of difference is in the last section of the bill, which is as follows: When it shall appear to the satisfaction of the president of the United States that (in any locality) the provisions of this law cannot otherwise be executed, it shall be his duty and he is hereby empowered to ——— there the writ of habeas corpus, and to employ the armed forces of the United States, naval and military, for its enforcement, and for the protection of the officers whose duties are herein provided for.

Preparatory to Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The next number of the consular reports issued by the state department will contain a review of the wheat, cotton and wool industries in the South American republics. This exposition is in furtherance of a general plan entertained by Mr. Blaine for familiarizing the American public with the situation south of us preparatory to any steps the administration may take under the reciprocity clause of the tariff bill of 1890.

THE PONAPE OUTRAGES.

A Spanish Officer's Threats Caused the Wholesale Massacres.

MR. RAND'S FUTILE EFFORTS

He Did His Best to Stop the Warfare, but the Spanish Governor Demanded Too Much and the Natives Wouldn't Trust Them.

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—Regarding the Spanish outrages at Ponape, an account of which has been laid before Secretary Blaine, the Rev. Judson Smith, D. D., foreign secretary of the American board of foreign missions, said to the United Press correspondent Monday:

The first battle occurred June 25, 1890. A lieutenant with from thirty to fifty men had been sent by the Spanish governor from the Spanish colony to Oua, the seat of our mission, and from five to seven miles away, to build barracks and to erect a Catholic church and priests' houses. From this officer's threatening words and actions the natives became apprehensive that they might be enslaved, and on the morning of June 25, seeing some boats coming from the Spanish colony, and fearing attack, they arose, surprised the Spaniards and killed the lieutenant and nearly all of his men.

From the time of the lieutenant's arrival at Oua the missionaries had done their best to allay the apprehensions of the natives and to restrain them from violence. During the outbreak they succeeded in saving the lives of two priests, four soldiers and the Spanish physician by concealing them in their houses for two days and nights.

Repulsed by the Natives.

The boats proved to be transports bringing troops from the colony. The troops attempted to land, but were repulsed by the natives, and returned in their boats to the colony, whence, later in the day, the transports came back to Oua with a larger force, which tried to land, but was driven back with the loss of a number killed, and the boats again retreated. Subsequently, on the same day, a steamer came over from the colony, and in trying to enter the harbor of Oua ran on a reef, where it lay unable to attack the natives for four days, at the end of which time it floated and put back to the colony. According to our accounts in this day's battle only one native was killed.

The Spanish government then dispatched a steamer to Manila, in the Phillipine islands, for more troops, and on Sept. 1 about 1,000 soldiers arrived to re-enforce him. Before and after that date Mr. Rand, the American missionary, had been going to and fro between the governor and the native chiefs, but had been unable to effect a settlement, the governor's terms being such that the natives were unwilling to trust him.

Among his demands were the surrender of arms and the delivery of twelve leading men as hostages by the natives. When it became evident that the natives would not accept his terms, the governor directed the missionaries to go to Kita, in another part of the island, and promised Mr. Rand that the mission property should be respected.

The Missionaries Not Responsible.

The missionaries left Oua for Kita on Sept. 3, after which time they were so far from the scene that they can give no detailed account of the subsequent trouble. They know, however, that the gunboats moved upon Oua, and they heard gun firing for several days before the final attack was made on Friday, Sept. 19, when the Spaniards shelled Oua, and on the next day forced a landing, drove the natives' back into the bush and burned the natives houses and the mission buildings. Mr. Rand writes under date of Sept. 22 that the natives thought that sixty or more Spaniards had been killed in that day's battle. Of the Ponapians only three were killed and four wounded.

A personal letter written Dec. 3 by Commander Taylor on board the Alliance confirms the statements of the missionaries as to their innocence of fermenting trouble between the Spaniards and the natives.

The Kaiser Will Fight for It.

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—It is reported from Berlin that unless the upper house of the Prussian diet agrees to the government bill for the reform of communal administration the diet will be dissolved and an appeal made to the country. The upper house is opposed to the measure because it limits the rights of the landowning class, who now have full sway in the rural communities. The kaiser is said to be determined to overcome the opposition of the nobility, even if he has to resort to the extreme measure of adding to the membership of the Prussian house of lords.

A Steamboat Aground

EVANSVILLE, Jan. 13.—The Louisville and Evansville Mail Line steamer City of Owensboro, which left here for Louisville, ran hard aground on the foot of French island, twenty miles above this city. The boat is in a dangerous position, owing to the rapid falling of the river. The James Guthrie, belonging to the same line, was at work on it all day yesterday. The harbor boats D. Nisbet and Isabella were chartered yesterday afternoon and left last evening to assist the Owensboro.

Expelled Him Because He Voted.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 13.—The Reformed Presbyterian church believes that the institutions of these states should be boycotted because the word "God" does not occur in the text of the constitution. It objects to any of its members even voting at an election. At the last state election Joseph Draper went and recorded his vote. The church got word of the fact, and his expulsion has been the result. What legal or other redress he will seek is not yet known.

Death Through a Bursting Steam Pipe.

SEYMOUR, Conn., Jan. 13.—While John Murdock was at work Sunday repairing the boiler of the Tingue plush factory a steam pipe burst, terribly burning Murdock about the face, arms and breast. Murdock was removed to the New Haven hospital, where he died early Monday morning.

Jim Corbett Will Be the Referee.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 13.—On Tuesday night the Audubon club will tender a reception to Dempsey, at which he and McAuliffe will spar four rounds. James J. Corbett, of San Francisco, will referee the Dempsey-Fitzsimmons fight on Wednesday night.

At this season of the year when malaria lurks in the air, and bad colds not an unfrequent visitor, we long for a quick and effective remedy. There is scarcely a home without a sufferer from some of the many ills the flesh is heir to. A stimulant is after the intermediator. It is quick and effective. It brings relief and saves doctors bills. We can recommend Mr. Max Klein for anything in the liquor line. His silver age Rye at $1 50 per quart is the best whiskey in the market. He will sell a 5 y Pennsylvania Rye Whiskey six years old, at 1.00 for each quart, or 6 x f r $5 00. Send for his price list and catalogue and mention this paper Address MAX KLEIN.

Philadelphia Miss—Grandfathers and scrapple.

A Lady's Perfect Companion.

Every expectant mother should read our new book by Dr. Dye, one of New York's most celebrated physicians. A perfect mothers' guide, it tells how the fearful ordeal can be made easy, free from danger, and almost entirely painless, thus saving months of anxiety, dread and suffering. Full of valuable information to ladies, answering hundreds of delicate questions. Send two-cent stamp for circulars, testimonials, and confidential letter. Address, FRANK THOMAS & Co., publishers, Baltimore, Md.

'Can you let me have some money this morning, John?' asked Mrs. Hojack at the breakfast table.

'Why, I gave you $25 only yesterday,' replied her husband.

'Yes, dear, but I bought a peck of apples.'

Consumption Surely Cured.

TO THE EDITOR:—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above-named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their Express and P. O. address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl St., N. Y.

A 2 year old child of Pilgrim Clark, of Turbett township, Juniata county, recently fell backward into a bucket of boiling hot water, receiving such serious scalds that recovery is believed to be impossible.

Miss Rosa Worley, of Reedsville, Mifflin county, died suddenly recently of diphtheria and membranous croup. She was aged 16 years.

A Good Paper.

There are many good daily newspapers that find their way to our table, but among the entire lot there are none that are superior to that great western paper, the Pittsburg Dispatch. And for 1891 this paper promises to be even superior to what it has been in the past. It will occupy its new granite fire-proof building on the corner of Diamond and Smith streets. It will be printed on all new machinery, the latest patents and improved as manufactured by R. Hoe & Co. It is the only paper in Western Pennsylvania that carries a daily special cable report from all the European countries. Its home news facilities are unsurpassed. Its circulation is over 30 000 daily edition, and the Sunday edition twice that. If you want a good reliable paper, the Pittsburg Dispatch will fill the bill. Try it.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, and acts directly upon the blood and mucuous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Sold by druggists, 75cts per bottle. nov. 6-1m.

Election of Officers.

At the annual election of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co., of Centre county, held at Bartges' Hotel, Centre Hall, on Monday, the following officers and Board of Directors were elected:

Vice President—S. J. Herring.
Treasurer—William Wolf.
Secretary—D. F. Luse.
Directors—Wm McFarlane, Harris; J. G. Bailey, H. C Campbell, Ferguson; Jacob Bottorf, College; Samuel Slack and Fred. Kurtz, Potter; S. J. Herring and Maj. J. B. Fisher, Gregg; Henry Duck, Penn; John H. Musser, Haines; S. Gramley and D. Brumgard, Miles.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits.

Girls who use SAPOLIO are QUICKLY MARRIED

SAPOLIO is one of the best known city luxuries and each time a cake is used an hour is saved. On floors, tables and painted work it acts like a charm. For scouring pots, pans and metals it has no equal. If your store-keeper does not keep it you should insist upon his doing so, as it always gives satisfaction and its immense sale all over the United States makes it an almost necessary article to any well supplied store. Everything shines after its use, and even the children delight in using it in their attempts to help around the house.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

It Will Be One of the Nineteenth Century's Greatest Achievements.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The secretary of the Nicaragua Canal Construction company, at No. 44 Wall street, has prepared an account of the explorations and surveys for the canal from 1502 to the present time, together with a statement showing the relations thereto of the government of the United States. He says:

Extensive machine shops are in process of construction and erection at Greytown for the use of the company and for the repairs of its dredging plant and for railroad work. The company has now in its employ about 1,000 men. It appears that already between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 have been expended in and about the prosecution of this gigantic enterprise, and it would seem unreasonable to expect congress to consider for a moment a proposition to destroy or cripple an enterprise of such magnitude, which had been given existence so recently under authority of law and under the express sanction and approbation of a government of more than 60,000,000 of people except for most convincing reason.

This enterprise, if successfully consummated, as we have every reason to believe it will be, will constitute one of the greatest achievements of the Nineteenth century. The committee deem it but fair to an enterprise of such magnitude that it should be given a reasonable time to demonstrate that those who have undertaken it are prosecuting the same in good faith, and that in their early movements they ought not to be hampered by captious and carping critics. If prosecuted in earnest the enterprise is entitled to the encouragement of the government, and those who have embarked capital and labor in it are entitled to the opportunity to demonstrate their good faith or the reverse.

Sprinkled with Kerosene.

JERSEY CITY, Jan. 13.—Fire was discovered on the premises occupied by the Florence mission, at 72 Morris street, which was extinguished by engine company No. 2 without an alarm, and before the flames had gained much headway. Chief Farrier made an investigation, and found that the fire was of incendiary origin, kerosene oil having been sprinkled upon the floor occupied by the Mission society. The floor over the mission room is occupied as a living room by Roman Gevinski, and the basement floor by him as a butcher shop, on which there is an insurance of $500. Gevinski, aged 47, and his son Henry, aged 17 years, were arrested on a charge of arson, and Justice Stilsing committed them for examination.

Bogus Divorcee Hughes Pleads Guilty.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The sharp practitioners, Messrs. William Duryea Hughes and William H. Buttner, whose exploits in divorcing people have made them notorious within the past few weeks, were taken before Recorder Smyth in the general sessions Monday. There was no ceremony in placing either of the disgraced lawyers before the bar. Hughes pleaded guilty to the charge of procuring a fraudulent divorce. He was remanded for sentence. Buttner asked for a further continuance. He is under two indictments. To one of these he has pleaded not guilty, and he is still considering how he shall plead to the other. He was granted until Wednesday.

'Frisco's Cathedral Dedicated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13.—St. Mary's cathedral, the largest and finest church edifice on the Pacific coast, was dedicated Sunday. It took several years to complete the structure. The building cost $300,000. The sermon at high mass was preached by Bishop J. L. Spaulding, of Peoria, and Archbishop Gross preached in the evening. The dedication was celebrated by Archbishop Riordan. Many prominent state and municipal officials were present, as well as Catholic clergymen from all parts of the Pacific coast.

A Double Tragedy.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13.—Frank F. Mitchell, a well known race horse gambler, shot and instantly killed Dolly Mayo shortly before 2 o'clock Monday morning. He then fired a bullet into his own brain and died a few minutes afterward. Mitchell had quarreled with the girl. Her real name is said to be Sallie Hendrickson, and she is said to be a daughter of respectable parents living at Pittsburg, Pa. Mitchell hailed from Cincinnati, where his family now resides.

Wrongfully Charged with Arson.

SEYMOUR, Conn., Jan. 13.—Jacob Idlestein has brought suit against Sharon S. Beach, claiming that his reputation has been damaged to the extent of $20,000. Idlestein rented a store of Beach and shortly afterward the building was burned. Beach charged Idlestein with arson, and the latter was held in jail pending trial when the case was nolled. Idlestein claims that the unsustained charge has damaged his business standing.

Didn't Mind a Little Thing Like That.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 13.—A case which has puzzled the physicians is reported from Stonington, W. Va. In a saloon fight Henry Plankenship was struck on the head with an ax, and a piece of skull, described as being "as large as a man's hand," with a quantity of brains, were cut off and fell to the floor. Physicians said death would result in a few minutes, but it didn't, and the patient is improving.

Attacked by Hungry Wolves.

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 13.—Wolves are invading the western border counties of Kansas in great packs in search of food. A short distance from Liberal yesterday Mrs. Garvey and her child were attacked by a pack of wolves a few steps from their home, and while the woman escaped with but slight injuries the child was carried some distance and mangled so horribly that it cannot recover.

Diphtheria Epidemic.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 5.—The fear that diphtheria would become epidemic in this city has been realized, and cases are being reported to the health office at the rate of fifteen a day. Physicians report the disease as spreading to an alarming extent. The danger is regarded as so imminent that the board of health held a special meeting to devise means for preventing the further spread of the disease.

Commander-in-Chief Veasey's Request.

RUTLAND, Vt., Jan. 10.—Commander-in-Chief Veasey, in an order just issued, announces the death of Judge Charles Deavens, past commander-in-chief. He asks that as many national and department officers as possible attend the funeral at Boston on Saturday. The customary badge of mourning is to be worn.

Three Men Killed.

From the Greensburg Press we take the following:

As the early mail train due here at 6.35, a. m., was nearing Lacolle, two and one half miles west of New Florence Thursday morning, it struck and killed two men who were walking on the track. They were both horribly mangled. One of the victims is apparently 55 or 60 years of age and the other probably 45. There was nothing upon their persons by which they could be identified and they will be buried at the expense of the county.

About 8.15 o'clock Thursday morning the New York and Chicago limited train struck and instantly killed an unknown man who was walking on the Pennsylvania railroad, below Irwin.

Special Announcement.

We have made arrangements with Dr. J. B. We feel confident that our patrons will appreciate the work, and be glad to avail themselves of this opportunity of obtaining a valuable book.

It is necessary that you mention this paper in sending for the 'Treatise.' This offer will remain open for only a short time.

The First of the Kind.

Rev. Fischer, last Thursday afternoon officiated at a marriage ceremony between two colored parties, which was his first of the kind since in the ministry. Mr. Albert Kline, of Chicago, Ill., a Pullman car porter, and Miss Mamie Vanbuskirk, of Richmond, Va., arrived at Centre Hall on the 3·28 train and were immediately driven to the Lutheran parsonage, where Rev. Fischer made them one. The dusky hued bride and groom departed on the 4.30 train for their western home.—Centre Reporter.

WHY!

WHEREFORE. The virtues or merits of a remedy for pain do not consist in its being as good for relief as other remedies, but in the fact that it is better, in being more prompt and sure, and therefore the best for the specific purpose. It is not an idle catchline that strikes the eye thus:

ST. JACOBS OIL
THE GREAT REMEDY FOR PAIN, IS THE BEST.

It is the best cure for all aches and pains, and it holds

THE TRUE PROOF.

To this specific fact Archbishops, Bishops, Clergymen, Lawyers, Doctors, Governors, Generals, Senators, Members of Congress and Legislatures, U. S. Consuls, Army and Navy Officers, Mayors and Officials, testify and unite in saying: "We suffered pain; OTHER REMEDIES FAILED, and St. Jacobs Oil cured promptly and permanently." ELIXIR OF LIFE AND [illegible] is one that promotes digestion, [illegible] the appetite, cleanses the liver, purifies the blood, and stimulates brain and nerves without injurious reaction, and one that may be taken safe by adult or infant. Profane compounds, made of vile rum or bad whiskey, sweetened and flavored, under the titles of bitters, tonics, &c, produce effects far worse than the disease for which they are taken.

A GENUINE TEMPERANCE BEVERAGE, far surpassing alcohol in any shape as a tonic it might be called
since it stimulates, invigorates and regulates digestion, nutrition, secretion, excretion, respiration, and all the functions whereby life is maintained—we literally take in vitality in spoonfuls.

It is too much to assert that the equal of Vinegar Bitters does not exist, and no counterpart or compound with similar virtues has ever been known
if remarkable for nothing else, would be immortalized by the production of the medicinal fruits, roots and herbs of which this Bitters is composed. Many of them used by the Indians and the medical profession in the treatment of chills and fevers, rheumatism, catarrh, consumption, neuralgia, headaches, liver complaint, kidney disease, jaundice, gout, piles, boils, skin diseases, &c., &c., too numerous to mention, but easily understood when the action of the Bitters on the vital functions is remembered. MISLEADING DISPATCHES.

The Bellefonte Furnace Won't Shut Down and the Glass Works Still in Operation.

Every place in the state, almost, has its 'enterprising' newspaper correspondent and Bellefonte is not behind in this regard, but correspondents ought, at least, give the truth when it effects home interests and industries. The following dispatch appeared in Pittsburg and Philadelphia papers on Wednesday:

BELLEFONTE, PA., Jan. 13.—The stack of the Bellefonte Furnace Company will soon be blown out on account of the scarcity of coal and a dull market. The stack will be relined during the shut-down and better repairs made in anticipation of better times.

Now the above is the truth so magnified and changed as to leave a very small semblance of the correct story for the reading public. The facts are as follows: The Company do intend, sometime in the near future, though the time has not yet been named, shutting down for repairs, which they are compelled to do, but not because of the "scarcity of coal and a dull market." And as soon as the repairs are made the fires will again be lighted and the Bellefonte Furnace will go on as ever before. It is now one of the most, in fact, the most, solid industry in Centre county, and one in which all persons in Bellefonte should feel a friendly interest.

Another dispatch was to effect that the Munson glass works had shut down. This is also an exaggeration of the truth. One furnace of the works will be shut down for some time, how long is not yet decided, but it is hoped it may be only for a few weeks.

Attempted Robbery of Sechler & Co.

On Friday night some person or persons broke into Sechler & Co.'s grocery store and attempted to blow open the safe, but failed. A panel was sawed out of the rear door, making a hole about fourteen inches square, through which the robbers crawled. The safe was the object of plunder. A hole had been started at the combination and drilled about a half inch deep when it was given up, likely because the metal was too hard to drill. The handle was then knocked off and a hole drilled in there a charge of powder put in and fired, but it failed to have the desired effect, and, instead of blowing open the door it only knocked the combination out of shape and effectually locked the safe. The robbers, then becoming disheartened, and probably afraid to remain longer, lest the shot had alarmed some one, and they would be caught, dropped all their tools and made their escape. As far as the proprietors have been able to tell, nothing whatever was taken.

The robbery occurred about 1 o'clock. The night clerk in Green's drug store heard the noise, but supposed it was in the Bush House. The night watchman heard the shot when the charge in the safe was put off, and he went and tried Sechler's door, but finding it locked, and not having located the report, he gave it no further consideration. The tools used were taken from the shop of Mr. McQuistian. There was a sledge, drills, brace and bit, etc. At this writing the safe door has not been opened.

The Longevity of Widows.

The last revolutionary war soldier died years and years ago. But the revolutionary widows are still with us. Twenty venerable women whose husbands 'fit' for American independence are carried upon the pension rolls. It is amazing how the widows of the soldiers hold on. At the present time Uncle Sam is disbursing $38,847 to the old soldiers of the war of 1812. But the widows of the old soldiers of the war of 1812 are drawing in pensions the snug sum of $1,553,239 annually.

When we get down to the Mexican war we find the survivors have a little the best of it. They draw $1,728,027 a year. The Mexican war widows get $695,054. But the widows are creeping up on the survivors. It will be only a few years until the Mexican war widows will be drawing more pension money than the survivors. That is the way the pension laws work out. At the pension office this is well understood. It is explained in a few words. The old pensioners marry young wives and leave them their blessings and pensions. The pensioners of the civil war will reach their maximum in numbers eight or ten years from now if there are no more pension laws enacted.

But the widows' list will keep on growing for a quarter of a century. Fifty years from now there will not be a Grand Army man living. Seventy-five years from now a grateful republic will still be reimbursing widows for what their husbands suffered at Gettysburg and Chickamauga. Women are yet to be born who will become widows of old soldiers and draw pensions for their husbands' services in the war of 1861-5.

There are to-day over one hundred thousand widows on the pension rolls. The pensioners number four hundred thousand. These figures will be reversed in twenty years. Ninety-eight thousand widows draw $12 a month. Last year the civil war pensioners drew $71,877,619. The civil war widows drew $19,006,857, more than one-fourth of the magnificent total.

AROUND THE TOWN.

Facts Observed, Noted and Now Served to Daily News Readers.

Everybody about town on Thursday was speaking of how quiet it was. Well, it did seem a little quiet in the most of places, and especially in some stores—those stores that don't advertise in the DAILY NEWS. And how easy it was to tell when a merchant advertised in this paper. His store was full of customers and all his clerks were busy.

If the Pennsylvania railroad company would now put an Arc light at the passenger depot in this place it would be bestowing a great favor on its patrons. As it is the vicinity of the depot looks dark and gloomy compared with other portions of the town which are now much lighter. Also, it would be very nice for theatre goers if Manager Garman would put an arc light in front of his new opera house. And while we are about it allow us to suggest that an arc light would be just the thing to put in the hall through the court house. Turn on the light.

The hot soda and coffee at Parrish's drug store is in great demand by the coasters who frequent Howard street every evening.

How the democratic papers are beginning to cry "No money in the treasury." It is a scheme thinner than air and any man blind of one eye and who can't see out of the other can see through it.

That the room in Bush Arcade now being repaired for Powers' shoe store, is nearing completion and it won't be many days more until Ed will move back into it. Moral: If you want a good pair of shoes cheap, now is the time to go and buy them.

How many young people of this town, and we dare say other towns, affect a modesty so false that it is apparent to the most stupid. Modesty is a virtue that should be sought after but a false modesty is worse than no modesty because it is an attempt to impose upon the innocent and unsuspecting.

Did you ever spend an hour in the district attorney's office? If you did not you have no idea of the scenes and incidents there brought to light. The occurrences would fill a good sized "police gazette" daily. On Thursday afternoon the writer saw and heard things amusing and interesting but which it would not do to mention. The district attorney's office is certainly an interesting place.

And now the Democrats want the office of County Detective abolished. They probably think if they can get that accomplished there will be $240 per year saved to go into the pockets of some of themselves. The editor of the Centre Democrat is loud in decrying it. Is he afraid he won't get enough out of the public crib if this office is continued?

That Fire Alarm Signal.

The little experience on Friday night shows how necessary it is that a more perfect fire alarm code of signals should be established than there is at present. It was fully five minutes from the time the fire alarm sounded before any of the companies could find out where the fire was. Five minutes of a delay at some fires would mean a destruction of probably thousands of dollars worth of property. Now there should be a simple signal adopted—the most simple imaginable—and then it should be so thoroughly and widely advertised, printed in the papers, and on bills, and stuck up in every store and business place, so that every person in Bellefonte would become thoroughly acquainted with it; and especially that the members of the fire companies would learn it. This is an important step, and one that should be taken without delay.

Sudden Death.

News reached this town of the sudden death of Daniel Bierly, an old and well known citizen of Tylersville and black smith by trade. He was making a business call at the squire's office when he dropped to the ground and expired instantly. Heart failure is supposed to have caused his death. He was a man of about 60 years of age and leaves a family. The interment takes place this (Thursday) forenoon at Tylersville.—Millheim Journal.

RUSSELL SAGE has just been awarded a $10,000,000 suit. It ought to keep him comfortable during the present cold weather, at least. Among his peculiarities are his refusal to loan over $500,000 on any one day, considering it extravagance to eat a dinner costing over 20 cents, and taking his noon repast at a free lunch counter on every occasion possible. Mr. Sage's wealth reaches the snug sum of $50,000,000.

ABOUT GOVERNOR BEAVER.

Ready to Move—Mrs. Beaver and Others Very Busy—The Governor will Return to Law.

The following special dispatch appeared in the Pittsburg Dispatch of Friday; we reprint it because it is of special interest to all Bellefonters:

The desk at which General James A. Beaver has presided for four years as Governor of the State will go out of office with him, It has been the custom for a long time to permit retiring governors to retain possession of their desks, and, in accordance with this practice, Governor Beaver's will be shipped next week to his home in Bellefonte. His Excellency will always prize it as a memento of his official residence in Harrisburg.

Just now everything is topsy-turvy in the Executive Department. The Governor and his entire staff will be prepared to vacate their offices promptly on the morning of Tuesday, January 20, when Robert E. Pattison takes hold of the Commonwealth reins. It looked like an April moving day in the offices yesterday. Chairs were upside down desks were turned inside out, and step-ladders were posed in a picturesque manner on all sides. At the Executive Mansion on Front street there is not so much confusion. Mrs. Beaver is there, personally supervising the details of packing up, and it is all being done in a quiet way. Nearly all the furniture and fittings at the mansion remain from term to term, it being the property of the State.

Will Return to Law.

Governor Beaver will probably return to the practice of law. He will, however, take a good rest first. It is not definitely settled whether he will continue to reside in Bellefonte or remove to Philadelphia, where it is said he has excellent opportunities offered him for lucrative legal business. There are still some rumors of General Beaver's political promotion at Washington by the national administration, but these are not well confirmed.

Governor Beaver and his wife have been very popular in that city since 1886 with all classes, but especially among the church going people. It is in this line that His Excellency will be missed quite as much as Mrs. Beaver. They have been active members of the leading Presbyterian church here, and the Governor himself has been superintendent of the Olivet Mission Sabbath School, an adjunct to the Pine Street Church, maintained in one of the poorer localities of Harrisburg. Governor Pattison's coming will transfer the official patronage to the Methodists. When here before he and his wife were members of Grace M. E. Church, the beautiful stone sanctuary opposite the Capitol. He was frequently a speaker in "experience meeetings" there, and Mrs. Pattison was relied upon as one of the chief aids in church organization.

Installation of Officers.

A regular assembly of Encampment No. 59, Union Veteran Legion, was held on Wednesday evening, January 14th, 1891, it being decided at a previous assembly that the installation of officers for the current year should be strictly private none were present but members. The old officers, with a few exceptions, being re-elected, were duly installed by Comrade Jno. I. Curtin, the Colonel Commanding No. 59, as follows:

Colonel—John I Curtin.
Lieut. Col.—Charles Smith.
Mayor—S H Williams.
Surgeon—C P Stonerode.
Quartermaster—Cyrus Gross.
Chaplain—W H Musser.
Adjutant—Geo B Brandon.
A of D—Amos Mullen.
A of G—James Kreps.
Sergeant Major—W S Port.
Q M Sergeant—H H Benner.
Color Bearer—Joseph Fox.
Bugler—John Whiteman.
Sentinel—Andrew Lucas.

It is not generally known to the outside public of Bellefonte that we have such an organization among us and it may be interesting to many that, notwithstanding the iron clad rules of the order, regarding long and continuous service, from a charter membership of eighteen it has been quietly growing until to-day it has the names of over 50 of the most respectable citizens of Centre county on its roll book. It is an organization of veteran soldiers of the late war in its fullest sense, and we wish it the success it deserves.

The Hostile Indians.

It is greatly to the credit of Gen. Miles that he has every prospect of settling the Indian troubles without further bloodshed on either side. He was not mistaken in his judgment as to the best methods to be employed for bringing the hostile braves to terms, and he will no doubt be able at the proper time to give good advice to the Government in its future dealings with the tribes. By disposing his troops so that the hostiles could not fail to perceive the folly of their continuing away from the agency and the utter hopelessness of trusting themselves against the guns and bayonets of the soldiers, he has brought the chiefs and the older and wiser of the warriors to their senses. He has not only done this, but he has satisfied them that the government is not bent on their destruction, that it is disposed to treat them justly and even generously, if they will only submit themselves to proper regulations and dicipline.

The Indian, although destitute of moral sense, is not a fool. He knows the difference between comfortable quarters and sufficient rations under the care of the Great Father and being hounded in the bad lands. The young bucks, impatient for a first encounter with the troops and ready to take a scrap whenever they can find one, have been hard to restrain, but the old chiefs seem to have them pretty well cooled down. The fight at Wounded Knee was a severe lesson for them, and the indications now are that they can be controlled without much difficulty.

The suggestion that after all Gen. Miles may be deceived by a mock surrender is entertained by some, and the characteristic perfidy of the Indians gives some warrant for it, but there are two reasons which render such conduct highly improbable. In the first place, Gen. Miles is too old and experienced to be caught in such a trap, and he has taken occasion to impress upon the hostiles the folly of attempting such treachery. They are not to be trusted; but, we take it, the general is trusting much more to his own resources than to any promises made by the chiefs. There are two conditions which ought to be insisted upon to the letter, the surrender of the arms in the possession of the Indians and the guarantee on the part of the chiefs that the impetuous young bucks should either be put under proper restraint or turned over to the government for punishment.

In Blessed Memory.

Mrs. Anna Bean, of whose death brief mention has already been made, passed peacefully into her eternal rest at her late residence at Port Matilda, Centre county, Pa., Sunday evening, January 11, 1891. That 'the memory of the just is blessed,' is again beautifully exemplified in the long and useful life of this estimable Christian mother. Well may her large family of sons and daughters prominent among whom is Rev. A. J. Bean, pastor of the Sinking Valley Lutheran charge, 'rise up and call her blessed;' as may her friends and neighbors, who, too, 'knew her but to love her.' Early orphaned, she became the companion of her brother, Rev. Daniel Moser, of sainted memory, until her marriage with Mr. Thomas Bean, who, with three of their family, a lovely daughter, and their two brave young soldier sons, have long since preceeded her to the tomb.

The funeral services were held in the Baptist church, after which interment was made in the family burying ground in Half Moon Valley.

In the summing up of her posterity the record stands: Eleven children—six sons and five daughters, the youngest Miss Emma, and twenty-two great grand children.

A Small Fire.

On Friday evening about 7.30 o'clock the fire alarm whistle was blown giving the West ward signal. It was some time, however, before the fire companies were able to find out where the fire was and fifteen minutes passed ere they were aware that it was on Thomas street. Thither the crowd all ran and the fire proved to be in the house owned by Mr. Isaac Thomas and occupied by Mr. McPherson as a boarding house. The fire had not broken out but was mostly confined in the attic. Water was thrown on immediately and the building was partially saved. The fire succeeded in burning through the roof and the water destroyed the plastering. It has not yet been learned whether Mr. McPherson had any insurance on his household goods or not; considerable of the furniture, bedding, etc., was carried out and saved. The house was insured. The fire originated from a defective flue. Mr. McPherson was not at home when the fire occurred,

The Dobson Carpet Mill Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, January 18.—The fire in the carpet mills of John and James Dobson was brought under control about 2 o'clock on Saturday morning but the big establishment was practically destroyed. The loss is estimated at $1,500,000. On this there is an insurance of $1,000,000, placed in four hundred different companies in this country and England. The mills are situated at the Falls of the Schulkill and they gave employment to nearly the entire population of that suburb.

The main story building or the carpet mills is a total wreck, as is also the extensive store. There were in all 100 stores used by the Dobsons in the manufactur of carpets and plush. All were close together, but escaped serious injury, with the exception of three buildings. The three buildings were monster affairs. The main structure destroyed was the largest of the group. It was 600 feet long and 250 wide, was built of stone and six stories in height. Nearly 3,000 employes will be thrown out of employment.

MR. BOB FITZIMMONS should not feel too elated over the fight. If he wants to be "put to sleep" let him come East and hear Mr. Cleveland talk tariff after dinner.

IN MEMORIAM.

A Glowing Tribute Paid to a Departed Brother by a Faithful and Loving Sister.

The home of Colonel Eyre Pile, so recently bereft of a loved one, has again been desolated by the relentless Death Angel. On Monday morning at eight o'clock her sable mantel encircled the darling of the family in the person of their son Frank so suddenly and unexpectedly that the loved one's departure was not dreamed of even by his mother at his bedside until after the soul had stepped across the shining portals of the beautiful unveiled Beyond.

The family are utterly crushed by this sudden blow. Less than two years have elapsed since the death of their son Jack—a veritable sunbeam in the home circle—after an illness of only a week. At this time Frank, as he was usually called, was just recovering from a long and serious illness. It was a crushing blow to him. He was never again the light hearted boy of previous times Never himself again.

William Franklin Pile was born in 1863, at Karthaus, Clearfield county, Pa. He grew up in Missouri, coming back to Pennsylvania in 1882. He left school and went into the employ of Wm. Graur & Co., where he remained for five years, always giving the utmost satisfaction to his employers. He then came to Bellefonte to the store of S. & A. Loeb, where he remained as long as the firm were in business. He was for a short time in the store of Joseph Brothers. Since then he has been traveling for the firm of Gillespie, Zeller & Co., of Philadelphia, until twelve weeks ago, when he came home with what proved to be typhoid fever, which only aggravated and developed his former lung trouble. He had recovered sufficiently to ride out, and even on Sunday, the last day of his life, moved about the house, ate with the rest of the family and talked with the friend who came to see him. He did not retire until after ten o'clock on Sunday night, passed a good night, and talked with the family as usual in the morning. Shortly before eight o'clock he sat up, smoothed his pillow to his own satisfaction, laid his face on his hand, drew three easy breaths, and his life had passed away as quietly and serenely as a breath of zephyr air on a summer morning. He passed away with a firm and saving faith in the all-atoning blood of Jesus. He so much regretted the inclemency of the weather on Sunday last, which precluded the possibility of his attending the Presbyterian church which he intended to join that day.

This young man was the soul of honor and integrity, each and all his employers having the utmost confidence in his honesty and fidelity. His life was short, but he passed away while the splendor was in the morning clouds—before he felt the wearying heat and burden of the day. In the distant future years the memory of his young life will be like a beautiful ray of golden light to cheer his friends in their affliction.

The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. William Laurie, D. D., who spoke of the many excellent qualities of the young man who had just stepped from the banks of time to the celestial shores of eternity. He said that the deceased had entered the sombre valley of death supported by the loving and strong arm of Jesus.

The floral offerings of love and respect were numerous and beautiful. Upon the lid of the casket rested a large floral cross, the ground work composed of the very gems among white flowers richly and profusely finished with Marschal Neil roses—a beautiful testimonial of honor and respect from the Centre Club, of which he was a member. Near the casket, in an easel, hung a broken wreath of exquisite white flowers crowned with Jacqueminot roses, accompanied by an array of Chinese lilies, white hyacinths, carnations and smilax. Along with this was a profusion of rare cut flowers and blossoming smilax. This was the gift of his highly esteemed and valued friend, Mrs. M. C. Nolan.

There was a large floral lyre, the gift of the family, which was a triumph of skill and beauty. There were numerous other floral offerings not mentioned.

The pall bearers were the following named young gentlemen:

James Harris, Jerome Harper, E. B. Grimes, William Kelly, Harry Jenkins, Philip Waddle, Charles Noll and Wm. Garman.

The members of the Pile family desire to express their sincere appreciation and thanks to each and all of the many very kind friends who contributed so much during their recent trouble.

Marshal Dill's Funeral.

The funeral of United States Marshal Andrew H. Dill took place at Lewisburg Thursday afternoon. Over 300 strangers were present. The Beaver Memorial church was filled with over 1,000 friends and relatives of the deceased, demonstrating the esteem in which Mr. Dill was held. Prior to the funeral a bar meeting was held in the Court House, presided over by Judge Bucher, of Union. On the Bench with Judge Bucher were Judges Metzger, of Williamsport, and Ikeler, of Bloomsburg. The following were the pall bearers: John A. Faunce, Philadelphia; John B. Linn, Bellefonte; J. W. Linn, William Jones, Daniel Cox and Chas. S. Wolfe, Lewisburg. Speeches commemorating the memory of the deceased were made by George Jacobs, Mifflintown; J. W. Linn, Lewisburg; ex-Senator Peale, of Lock Haven; ex-Senator Frear, Bloomsburg; Henry Watson, Williamsport, and ex-U. S. Senator Wallace, of Clearfield. The Royal Arcanum, Masons and G. A. R. attended in a body. Many prominent men were present.

What Should Be Done.

The county commissioners have at last concluded to send a man to Mahaffy, Clearfield county, to identify the man there held under the belief that it is Wilson. A man was sent out today. Owing to the fact that the 'suspects' are becoming so numerous, and the frequent trips made for the purpose of identification, the district attorney suggests and the Commissioner's attorney advises that the reward be made $1,000. That a full description of the man, his habits, his manners, under what condition he came to Bellefonte, and all that is now known about him be advertised in the papers. And that it further be specified that all "suspects," or arrested persons who are believed to be Wilson, must be brought to Bellefonte for identification, and then, if they are not the man wanted it will cost the county nothing. And if Wilson is brought here and identified the reward will immediately be paid.

His Daughter Suffered from Eczema.

My daughter suffered for five years with an attack of chronic eczema, that baffled the treatment of all the best practitioners. I then concluded to try a course of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.) She began to improve from the first dose, and before she had completed the second bottle the irritation had disappeared, and she is now well and enjoying unexcelled health. These are plain and simple facts, and I will cheerfully answer all inquiries, either in person or by mail.

I have used Swift's Specific from cleansing the Blood of impurities, and find it to be the best in the market. It not only purifies the blood, but it is a most excellent tonic, and builds up the general health promptly.

A Dangerous Counterfeit.

There is a dangerous counterfeit bill in circulation. It is a $5 United States note of the series of 1880. It is signed by W. S. Rosecrans as Register and J. N. Huston as Treasurer. On the counterfeit is the portrait of Jackson, and the background has a light grayish look. It is not like the good, black ink impression on the genuine note. The work on Jackson's face is coarse and poor, and the gray background of the portrait is is in perpendicular lines only, and not like the fine cross-line work on the genuine note. The paper is fair, but it lacks the silk threads of the genuine. There are other imperfections in the note, and it is not considered a good counterfeit, though dangerous.

The "Arizona Kicker."

In its last issue, which was three days late, owing to a circumstance below narrated, the 'Arizona Kicker' says;

One More Unfortunate—The other week a tenderfoot who said he had been a reporter on the Pittsburg Chronicle, came along and struck us for a job, and we set him to work Monday on the agricultural department of the paper. We warned him against the strange climate of this strange country, and that he must not attempt to handle anything until he first asked the name of it. After two or three hours he got the swell-head and went out to chin with the boys, and that afernoon we buried him. He had heard tell of jackass rabbits, but had never seen one, and somebody made him believe that Colonel Moore's mule, which was tied near the post office, was one of the gentle creatures of the plains. He was looking to see if the rabbit's feet were webbed when the calamity came. Mortum bum; which is Latin for the didn't know it was loaded, and that we have his latch key, 5 cents in money and a summer neck tie which we will forward to his friends on request.

Told Him So.—Three months ago, when a young man who had stuck type for 35 cents per 1000 on a Cleveland paper and had knocked off because he couldn't agree with the editorial policy of the paper, came out here to establish a plant and grow wool on his back, we sat down and talked to him like a brother. There's nothing mean about us. We don't want the earth. We have a great weekly paper, a butcher shop, a millinery store and a signal service bureau all under one roof, and we don't care how many other enterprises are established in the wild west.

The young man planned to start a weekly over in Pedro Valley, and we warned him to pitch into the Czar of Russia and go light on the boys at home. That's the safe policy while learning to shoot right and left handed. He didn't seem to take kindly to our advice, and our last words, as we lent him 16 letters out of a font of job type, were to prepare for the up-hills and down-hills of the hereafter. The sequel proves that we were correct. He issued one edition jabbed his home subscribers, and now he sleeps in lot No. 17, section 21, of Tower's subdivision of the 2,000 acre tract. He died a victim to the climate, assisted by willing hands.

Took a Walk.—Any particular lack of interest in our editorial page this week must be laid to a little incident which occurred Tuesday afternoon. A cross-eyed pressman, who was working his way from San Francisco to Boston to see his mother die, had put in a couple of weeks with us as literary editor. He seemed a prudent, level-headed fellow, and he passed in his copy without reading it. What did he do but ring in a little item to the effect that four acres always beat a royal flush, no matter what old liar held to the contrary. Col. Johnson, who is Arizona authority on poker, came around to have a look at our man and ask where and how we had captured him, and he had scarcely stepped inside the office when the pressman lest his nerve and began to shoot.

What was the Colonel's gain was our loss. We had a finger split by a bullet, the devil got a rake across the skull, and the foreman now carries his arm in a sling. The Colonel it is needless to say, was untouched. When our young man got through shooting at everybody except the man he wanted to hit, we assisted to take him out, head him for the cactus plantation and start him off. He won't see his mother die—not if he keeps on in that direction. Tenderfoots sailing in this direction should bear in mind that our customs ways and habits are somewhat different from those of Boston and New York, and on arriving in this locality they should expect to be advised and posted by our citizens who can exibit nine graves in their private burying grounds.

Snow Two Miles Deep.

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

"Yes, I have been in a country where the snow is two miles deep," said N. B. Lazard, a mining expert from Tombstone, Arizona, at the Palmer House recently. Mr. Lazard was in the East during the recent snow storm, and was talking about what the people in Pennsylvania called a blizzard.

"They thought the two-foot fall of snow was something to talk about," continued the visitor, "but if they would visit Alaska about 200 miles up the Yukon river they would find snow that for miles is so thick that the banks near reach the skies. If it keeps on accumulating as fast as it has during the last ten years scientific men will not be able to say truthfully the earth is round.

I was in Alaska, in the Consoflake region in 1885, and that year the snow fall was quite heavy. Snow that falls there remains, for it never melts. A prospector named Jim Thomas was with me during the trip, and one beautiful morning he fell from a glacier about 100 feet. The fall broke both his legs, one arm, and crushed in several ribs, besides injuring him internally. He was conscious when I reached him, and he told me he knew he was going to die. He begged me to see that his mother and sister in the East received all the property he had left in Harrisburg.

I promised, and fulfilled the trust. Just before he died he asked me to pray for him, and for the first time since I had knelt beside my mother when a little boy, I got down on my knees and asked God to receive the soul that was about to depart. I prayed as I never prayed since, and I meant all I said. There was a smile on poor Thomas' face when I said 'Amen,' and with a most peaceful expression on his countenance he breathed his last. I buried him in the snow, and to-day if his body could be found I know it would look as natural as the moment he died—the peaceful expression and all."

In Other Counties.

There are several cases of diphtheria at Reedsville, Mifflin county.

The sand industry at McVeytown is in a languishing state at this writing.

Our exchanges down the Juniata valley report numerous coasting accidents, some of them quite serious.

Miss Nancy Innes, one of the oldest residents of Beale township, Juniata county, is among the recent dead.

Rev G P Sarvis, formerly of this city now stationed in Centre county, has been made the recipient of an elegant gold watch.

They say the prospects for oil at the well on the grounds of the Juniata camp ground are excellent. Still the editors of the Juniata valley don't seem inclined to invest any of their surplus wealth in the enterprise.

D. B. Howell, of Logan, Mifflin county, while skating a few days ago, met with an obstruction and was thrown so violently to the ice that it was feared he had been fatally injured. He is now somewhat better, however.

Demorest's Magazine.

Are you fond of dancing? Yes is the natural reply to this question, if you had already mastered the art. Every detail of the modern society dances are so very clearly described by Mr. Dodworth in Demorest's Family Magazine for February that a child could learn it without a master. It was while dancing that Juliet won the love of her Romeo, as shown in a full page engraving. A Dream of Love is the title of a very pretty full page engraving. The leading article—Ladies of High Degree—is embellished with pictures of the leading women of the times. Dr. Koch, the consumption cure discoverer, is also shown in a life-like portrait. It contains many other illustrations with interesting and instructive descriptions thereof. All the departments are, as usual, complete and entertaining. Its subscribers get the full worth of their money, and no family should be without it. Published by W. Jennings Demorest, 15 East 14th St., New York.

Nellie Lewis Carnation.

The latest and one of the best novelties for 1891 is an elegant Carnation, growing on long stems, a free bloomer with large flowers, of an exquisite shade of pink, something entirely different from anything in Carnations. This flower is destined to become a great favorite among the florists, as the ladies prize it very highly for corsage bouquets and decorative purposes generally. The endorsement of the old firm of James Vick, Rochester, N. Y., who introduce this plant, is enough to assure the public that it is all they claim for it. The price is only 50 cents each, three for $1.25, 6 for $2.25, doz. for $4.00; but a better way would be to send 10 cents for Vick's Floral Guide and the 10 cents can be deducted from the first order forwarded for seeds.

THREE months ago George Wallace Delamater was riding around in Pullman cars with a dozen attendants, the standard-bearer of the greatest party in the universe for the highest office in the gift of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, respected, trusted and admired by all, whose check would have been taken for thousands of dollars. Now he is under arrest for fraudulent dealing with other people's money, his friends are few and far between and his check not worth the paper it is written upon. Such is life in this great age of progress and civilization.

THE Philadelphia Press printed columns daily in the vain attempt to spoil Cameron's chances for re-election to the United States Senate and, when a republican caucus nominated him without a dissenting vote, the 'Press' thinks to divert public opinion from him and so starts a boom for old farmer Taggart. Farmer Taggart seems to think his boom a good one, but when the time comes for the voting to be done he will then only find out that the more fool was he for allowing a fool of a newspaper man to turn his old pate in that direction.

It is not always perfectly safe to soothe the baby with opium preparations, but you can rely on Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup, it contains nothing injurious. Sold by all dealers for 25 cents.

So extraordinary successful has been the work of Old Saul's Catarrh Cure, that dealers can sell no other. Price only 25 cents.

Resolutions on the Death of Wm. Singer

BLANCHARD, Jan. 15, 1891.

At a regular stated meeting of Geo. Harleman Post, No. 302, G. A. R., Jan. 7, 1891, the following Resolutions were passed:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, to remove from our midst our esteemed and much beloved comrade, Lieutenant William Singer, an upright and honest member of our Post. And while we bow in humble submission to His supreme will, we nevertheless deplore and keenly feel the loss of a true comrade and an able and active citizen. Lieutenant Wm. Singer enlisted in the year 1861 as a private in Co. A, 49th Regiment, Penna. Vol. Inf., and by bravery and a faithful performance of his duties as a soldier was promoted to a Lieutenant. Was severely wounded at the battle of Chancellorsville, May 10, 1864. Therefore,

Resolved, That by his death our Post has sustained a severe loss. A name has been stricken from our rolls which can never be replaced and gloom pervades the Post room.

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his wife and children in their sore distress and in faith commend them to the God of all comfort and consolation.

Comrade, God has taken you from our ranks but the emblem of remembrance at thy grave teaches us that your name shall always remain green in our memory.

Well Known.

There is probably no business house in Western Penn'a so well known to the public in this and adjoining States as the one we are about to speak of. Well known for square and honest dealing, well known for keeping the largest and most complete stock in his line, well known for prompt shipping and safe delivery either by freight or express. We refer to the establishment of Max Klein, the wholesale liquor dealer of 82 Federal street, Allegheny, Pa. His arrangements with the different Mountain Distillers of Penn'a for their entire production, and his contract with foreign houses for direct importations, together with the experience of many years, makes him the leader in his line. His own "Silver Age Rye," sold now in every first-class place at $1.50 per quart, has no rival. His six year old Penn'a Ryes at $1.00 each, or six quarts for $5.00 are the finest goods offered. Send for his price list, acquaint yourself with his manner of doing business, and you will always send for any stimulant you may want to

AND now word comes that "Pap" is seeking another "vindication." He is going to see that Cameron is re-elected to the U. S. Senate and then he will resign his seat just to have himself re-elected. The former we believe to be correct. He will see Cameron re-elected simply because he can't prevent it. But as to him resigning, we say, "don't do it, Matt, don't do it. The Republican party has not yet gotten over your other "vindication," and if this one is persisted in you might not get over it. Better let well enough alone."

THE suspense is awful. Jim says the Sheriff promised to appoint him deputy, while Jim's backing, the same persons who made Hunter Commissioners' Clerk, says he must. The Sheriff might do it, but his brother Sam wants the place and he don't like to offend him. Be an independent official, Sheriff, and appoint your own deputy.

An Old Nurse's Thirty Years' Experience

An old nurse of 30 years' experience says that she has never used a wine that has had such a pleasing effect on her patients as that made by Mr. Alfred Speer, of Passaic, N. J. It is a pure article, and people have confidence in it. Ask any noted physician. For sale by druggists everywhere.

IF the county has no use for the money lying in its treasury let those townships to which it belongs demand that it immediately be paid over to them. No use letting it lay in bank where nobody gets any benefit from it.

NOR doth it profit any man to fight thirteen rounds, lose $12,000, get his nose out of joint, and his eyes into heavy mourning. It isn't business.

'It leads them all,' is the general reply of druggists when asked about the merit or sales of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

ABOUT one out of every ten theatrical, operatic, comedy and musical companies that are now on the road are worth going to see. The other nine, if they would play for a percentage to be rated according to the quality of the entertainment given, might get five per cent. of the gross proceeds, but it's doubtful.

HAD the Republican party in this State not made a fool of itself and bowed to the will of one man this inauguration would have been a rejoicing for the Republicans, and our own "Dan" would have led the procession to the capital.

BROTHER P. G. Meek stepped right into prominence in his party in the State Senate. Now let him see to it that Centre county's interests are properly looked after, and who knows but he may be President some day.

THIS is excellent weather for good health. The person that can't keep well such weather certainly needs the services of a physician.

WASHINGTON WHISPERS

The Navy Department Exercised Over the Tracy-Reiter Imbroglio.

FREE COINAGE OF SILVER.

Senator Plumb Asserts That if the President Vetoes the Measure the Silver Men Will Frame a Bill Which He Will Willingly Sign.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Great interest is felt at the navy department in the Tracy-Reiter imbroglio. Comment among the officers of the service is of course very guarded. Some of the higher magnates at the department decline to express any opinion, or even to talk about the matter at all.

Some of the younger and more fiery officers of the line take sides against Commander Reiter, citing the Koszta case, in which Capt. Ingraham figured, as a precedent, to show how the country regarded a man who, when out of reach of orders from headquarters, took the law into his own hands and made foreigners "stand around." There is a good deal of this feeling among the younger set, who cherish with great enthusiasm such traditions as that of the American captain who demanded an apology of the officers of a British ship for asking too many questions of his men when they were paying him a visit.

Reiter's Protest Harmful to Himself.

As to Commander Reiter's letter of protest it can hardly fail to do him harm with the present administration. Its plea for a court martial will pass unheeded. Probably Secretary Tracy will consider that he has punished the commander enough and decline to take any notice whatever of his communication. Under the regulations for the administration of justice in the navy, no officer has a right to a court martial. He can petition for one if he chooses, but his superior is not bound to listen to his prayer.

The discretion of the secretary in such a case as the present one is absolute. He may discipline an officer at his own will, instead of ordering him tried. In that event it is presumptively vain for the officer to attempt to get a hearing before a court, because the secretary would hardly call together a board composed of his subordinates to sit in appeal upon the judgments he had already passed and the punishments he had already administered.

From all that can be learned Secretary Tracy considers the case permanently closed, unless the commander should do something so flagrantly insubordinate that he would have to be cashiered.

Precedents in the Case.

"Every one of us," said a naval officer of some experience to your correspondent Tuesday, "is liable to be brought face to face with problems as serious as that which confronted poor Reiter. At an hour's notice he may be called upon to provoke an international war as the alternative of getting a wigging for alleged cowardice. How can we tell, at any moment, whether the authorities at home want us to act like lions or like lawyers? Ingraham became a popular hero and received the thanks of the government for rescuing Koszta from the clutches of the Austrians at the risk of involving his nation in a bloody conflict for which it was ill prepared, but in that instance the enemy succumbed without the firing of a gun. Ingraham was simply in luck.

"I have often wondered what would have happened to him at home if his bravado had failed of its effect, and the country had found itself with a war on its hands. There was Wilkes, after the outbreak of the civil war, who thought he was following straight in the footsteps of Ingraham when he boarded the Trent and took Mason and Slidell off as prisoners; yet, as England showed fight when we had all the fight we wanted, Wilkes was disciplined and saw all his brave work reversed. The Wilkes incident was considerably later than the Ingraham incident. If Reiter was looking for precedents he perhaps thought that Wilkes' performance was safer to be warned by than to follow."

Senator Plumb on Free Coinage.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Senator Plumb said to a reporter that if the president vetoed a free coinage bill the silver senators would endeavor to find out what legislation he would favor. "We look to the president," he said, "not to be an obstructionist, but a solvent of the problem. The silver men," Senator Plumb added, "would be willing to compromise, if such a step was necessary, by agreeing to postpone free coinage until gold and silver had remained at a parity for a year.

"The silver senators will, of course, put themselves on record now as being for free coinage, and there is no doubt of the adoption of this feature in the bill. Should the president disapprove it an endeavor would be made to learn what he approves, and a bill will be framed that he will sign."

In speaking of the fear of an influx of foreign silver, Senator Plumb pointed out that when silver had advanced from 90 to 121 no foreign silver was imported, even though its value had so largely increased.

The Elections Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—On Thursday an endeavor will be made by the friends of the elections bill to bring that measure to the front again, and it is possible that they may be successful. On the Democratic side there is no feeling of security, and a prominent Democratic senator said on Sunday that he believed the Republicans had enough votes to again bring it before the senate. Curiously enough it is easier to find on the Republican side senators who believe that the bill is dead. The closure rule is said to have been abandoned.

A Sport and an Actor Dead.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Billy O'Brien, the well known sporting man, who was Monday declared hopelessly insane and taken to the Flatbush asylum, died at 11 a. m. Tuesday. Maurice Scanlan, the actor, brother of Billy Scanlan, died at his residence here.

Artist Lafon Dead.

BUTTE, Mon., Jan. 14.—Joseph Lafon, the caricaturist sketch artist, died here yesterday, after a few days' illness, of pneumonia. Mr. Lafon was formerly of The New York Graphic corps.

Can Increase Its Capital.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—The railroad commissioners met Tuesday morning and granted the petition of the Amsterdam Street Railway company to increase their capital from $15,000 to $25,000.

GOVERNOR ABBETT'S MESSAGE.

He Congratulates the State on the Success of Ballot Reform.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 14.—Both branches of the legislature assembled Tuesday, and Governor Abbett submitted his annual message, which was read. Governor Abbett said:

"The financial condition of the state is not embarrassing, but it will not permit new appropriations except in absolutely necessary cases. Its condition will also prevent the immediate payment of many appropriations heretofore made by the legislature. Unless the state secures additional sources of revenue or increase the amount to be obtained from the present sources it will be several years before it will be fully able to meet outstanding appropriations.

It is important to the state that its manufacturing and agricultural interests, resources and advantages be fully and properly presented to the attention of the citizens of the United States and of other countries. The exhibit of this state at the coming World's fair should be superior to that heretofore made in Philadelphia and New Orleans.

"If the legislature," the governor says, "will pass an act which will enable me to secure proper representation of the state at this World's fair, I shall at once issue a proclamation calling together the representatives of agricultural and manufacturing industries and others interested in such an exposition to secure their advice and co-operation to make our exhibit one of which our citizens may feel justly proud."

With regard to ballot reform he says: "I recommended in my inaugural message the passage of a ballot reform law. The legislature passed the act May 28, 1890. The operation of this law has secured practical reform and honest elections in this state. The law is the simplest and most efficient act adopted in any of the states of the Union. It was to be expected that the practical working of such an act might develop the need of some amendments. If any should be found necessary the greatest care should be taken in drafting them not to impair the efficiency of the law.

"The wisdom of the passage of this act has been fully demonstrated; the people of the state are entirely satisfied with its operation; the elections have been more peaceable and orderly; intimidation has been rendered impossible and bribery has been practically eliminated from election contests. No evil has resulted from the use of official ballots previous to election when used in connection with the provisions in the act that the ballots should be inclosed in an official envelope, procurable only at the polling place.

"The election officers and citizens of the state have found no difficulty in the working of the new law, and it commends itself to the judgment of all those in favor of pure elections and secret ballot. The power of revision vested in the courts is so complete and ample and so summary that the incentive to commit frauds by election officers or others is entirely destroyed. I congratulate the people of the state upon the success of the great reform."

Deliberately Assassinated.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 14.—A communication to The Age-Herald from Randolph, a small station in Ribb county, says:

The most tragic event in the history of this county occurred at the station on the arrival of the northbound passenger express. Among the passengers were H. H. Jones, sheriff of Jackson parish, La.; Oliver Head and James Tete, the latter a prisoner arrested in Louisiana charged with the fatal shooting of William Head early last fall near Six Mile, in this county, and for whose apprehension and delivery to the county authorities a reward of $400 had been offered. As the parties alighted from the train in the broad glare of the lamps at the station and hotel, a bold assassin scarcely ten feet from his victim raised his pistol, and with two shots fired in rapid succession, almost instantly killed the sheriff, who was leading the manacled prisoner to the hotel. The murderer escaped under the cover of darkness, the prisoner making his escape at the same time and following his rescuer. There is no expressed conjecture as to the perpetrator of the crime. The body of the murdered man and his effects were sent to his bereaved family in Louisiana.

Shot Dead by His Mother.

CRAB ORCHARD, Ky., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Jane Mullins, living near here, shot and killed her son Henry, 18 years old, yesterday. He had come home from the town in a hilarious mood, and picking up his mother's 3-year-old foster child was tossing it in the air. His mother commanded him to put the child down, and when he refused picked up a musket to compel him. The boy seized the gun. A struggle ensued, in which the weapon was discharged, killing the boy.

Think It Was Hydrophobia.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 14.—The 3-year-old daughter of Mrs. Henry Beaver, of Irvington, a suburb of this city, died yesterday from what physicians pronounced to be a case of hydrophobia. Three months ago the little girl was bitten in the head by a dog. The child retained consciousness to the last, and answered questions by a shake or a nod of the head.

Editors Come to Blows.

HAMMOND, Ind., Jan. 14.—A personal encounter occurred in the office of The Standard between Local Editors Towle, of The Echo, and Mason, of The Standard. The trouble grew out of personalities in which the two papers have been indulging for the past three months. The Echo man got the worst of the encounter.

Knights of Labor Meet.

ALBANY, Jan. 14.—The state convention of the Knights of Labor met in this city Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, and the committee on credentials immediately met. The convention has about 120 delegates from various parts of the state, about two-thirds of the order being represented.

The Cotton Belt Road's New Name.

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 14.—Edwin Gould, son of Jay Gould, spent yesterday in Austin, and filed in the office of the secretary of state the charter of the reorganization of the Cotton Belt road, sold some time ago. The name under the new charter is the St. Louis and Southwestern railway of Texas.

A New Trial for the Flacks.

ALBANY, Jan. 14.—The court of appeals has granted a new trial to ex-Sheriff James A. Flack and his son William, convicted a few months ago of conspiracy to secure a divorce for James A. Flack.

REVENGEFUL REDSKINS.

Pine Ridge Hostiles Say They Will Fight to the Bitter End.

TO AVENGE THEIR SLAIN.

They Are Exceedingly Wrathy Over the Killing of Their Women and Children—The Pine Ridge Friendlies in a Very Bad Position.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 14.—Fred Lepante, a halfbreed ranchman living near North Pierre, has just received a letter from an Indian relative at Pine Ridge saying that 363 Indians, including women and children, have thus far been killed by troops. The letter further says that the Indians will now continue the war to the bitter end to avenge the killing of their women and children. Parties in yesterday from the Cherry creek country say that the Indians there are still keeping up the wailing and lamentation over the killing of women and children, and that the friendly Bad river Indians fear an attack.

A Desperate Disposition.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Gen. Miles, under date of Pine Ridge, Jan. 12, telegraphs to Maj.-Gen. Schofield as follows: "Gen. Brooke's command is now camped five miles distant, on White Clay creek, and the entire body of Indians are between the two commands. Gen. Brooke has commanded his forces with commendable skill and excellent judgment. The greatest difficulty is now to restore confidence. The Indians have great fear that the army will be taken away, and then all treated like those who were on Wounded Knee. They have a large number of wounded women and children, which creates a most depressing feeling among the families and a desperate disposition among them, but no serious embarrassment is apprehended at present.

Dangerous Position of Friendlies.

PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., via Rushville, Nev., Jan. 14.—The friendlies held a council last night and decided that they wanted none of the hostiles in their camp. They have dug rifle pits, and say that if even a solitary warrior comes among them and causes any trouble they will arrest him, and if he resists they will kill him. The friendly camp is between the agency and Retreat, and if a fight takes place no one will know a friendly from a hostile, and the fight may become simply a battle between all the Indians and the whites. The ten chiefs did not come in last night. They are expected today, but there are fears that it will be a day or two before they can be induced to come to the agency.

Dancing Themselves Crazy.

Scout Frank Giraud spent last night in the hostiles' camp, and he says the scene was indescribable. Young-Man-Afraid-of-His-Horses was there talking peace. The chiefs told him he could talk as much as he pleased, but they would have nothing to say. "They have danced themselves crazy," said Giraud, "and they are crazy still. The young men are mad and the old ones act as though they are half afraid. The squaws are silent and the warriors sullen. I cannot tell what they will do, but there are several hundred young men who want to fight. They have their war paint on and are ready for a battle."

Agent Royer's Wife Explains.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Royer, wife of the Pine Ridge Indian agent who has just been removed, arrived here yesterday afternoon with her two daughters. She indignantly denies the stories of her husband's cowardice, and asserts that he went to Rushville at the outset in the interest of the settlers. She says it became necessary to call for troops, but as there was no communication with the outside world except by telephone he went to Rushville, so as to use the telegraph.

A General Massacre Threatened.

COULEE CITY, Wash., Jan. 14.—An Indian outbreak is threatened at Ruby City. Jan. 8 an Indian lad was lynched by a mob at that place, and the redskins threaten a general massacre. The governor has sent arms and ammunition to this place, and the troops have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for active duty.

Killed His Wife and Himself.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—Anton Bruchner, an ex-saloon keeper, living in West Philadelphia, early Tuesday morning shot and killed his wife Anna and himself. The origin of the tragedy is supposed to have been jealousy. Bruchner had kept a saloon at 907 Poplar street until the new license law took effect. Then, his occupation gone, he returned to his trade of garment cutter. He had been out of employment for a couple of weeks, but Mrs. Bruchner was employed in the Working Home for Blind Men as a cook. The two seemed to have enough for all their wants, and Anton declared that his savings and his wife's wages were sufficient to support them well until he could procure a good position.

A Baltimore and Ohio Strike Averted.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 14.—After three weeks of almost daily consultation between the committee representing the Brotherhood of Trainmen of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and the officials of the company in this city, an agreement has been reached amicable to both sides and signed by them, thus removing the possibility of a strike. Secretary Munsell states that the rates of wages originally asked for by the committee, and which are about 10 to 15 per cent. higher than the new rate, will go into effect on Jan. 1, 1892.

Both Shot Through the Head.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—A man and woman arrived here and registered at the Cosmopolitan hotel as Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, of El Paso, Tex. Last evening two shots were heard in their room, and upon investigation both were found shot in the head. The woman died instantly and the man cannot recover. The cause of the tragedy is not known. It is reported that the couple lived in Lemore or Fresno, Cal., and that the man's real name is Lowry.

I. M. Weston in Control.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 14.—I. M. Weston, for several years chairman of the Democratic state central committee, yesterday assumed control of The Daily Democrat, which he purchased a month ago. Col. A. M. Aldrich, of Milwaukee, will be chief editorial writer.

TO SPAN THE DELAWARE.

A Proposed Suspension Bridge to Connect Philadelphia and Camden.

CAMDEN, Jan. 14.—The proposal to construct a suspension bridge across the Delaware river between Philadelphia and this city is now about to take a definite shape. A bill has been prepared and will be introduced in the New Jersey legislature, which is now in session at Trenton.

The bill is for a charter to the Philadelphia and Camden Bridge company, with a capital of $2,000,000 and power to increase the same to $4,000,000. A limit for the construction of the bridge is placed at ten years. It must be at least fifty feet in width and of sufficient height as to allow the passage of all such vessels as usually navigate the Delaware river. The toll charges are not to exceed the ferry rates, and upon the payment within ten years of a sum equal to the full cost of construction, together with legal interest, the two cities may make the bridge free. The right of eminent domain is provided for in the bill.

A similar bill is to be introduced in the Pennsylvania legislature, and congress will be called upon to ratify both measures. When erected the bridge is to be a post road, free for the transportation of the United States mails, and in time of war for the transportation of troops, supplies, etc.

The following are mentioned in connection with the proposed bridge scheme. Thomas M. Speakman, William Allen, Henry M. Markley, H. L. Bousall, Arthur F. Thompson, George W. Marter and I. B. Smith. Mr. Speakman is an engineer, and at the Vienna exposition, in 1873, represented Philadelphia, the Academy of Natural Science and the Franklin institute.

The structure is to exceed in width the Brooklyn bridge, which is sixty-five feet wide, and will be modeled upon similar plans. There will be two port ways, two wagon ways and a cable railroad. No unavoidable delay will be allowed to interfere with pressing the measure to a conclusion.

A Very Substantial Waistcoat.

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—Among the passengers brought here by the steamer Iowa yesterday was a ragged and filthy old man, apparently an Irishman, giving his name as John Brown and his age as 60, who had no ticket, but claimed to have bought one and to have lost it. He was carried to the harbor station as a pauper. On the way the officer in charge happened to lay his hand on the old fellow's back, felt something hard and on investigating found $3,893 in gold coin sewed into his waistcoat. The man says he lived in Gloucester for thirty years; that he went to Ireland with his money on his back and got sick of the country and returned. He appeared to be not quite sane, and was detained for his own good.

Two of the Crew Drowned.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Jan. 14.—The British schooner Otter went ashore near the Bellport (L. I.) life saving station Tuesday morning. Two of her crew were drowned while coming ashore on the breeches buoy, which became disarranged. The rest of the crew, seven men, were saved. The schooner is full of water. She is a two master, and came from St. Kitts with a cargo of salt, bound for New York.

BRIEF MENTION.

The Denver Times, an evening newspaper, has been sold to Minneapolis parties for $225,000.

Gen. F. E. Spinner, ex-treasurer of the United States, is dead.

The German flag was formally hoisted at various points along the Zanzibar coast to mark Germany's acquisition of that territory. The towns of Tanga, Pangini, Saadani, Bagomoyo, Dar-Es-Salaam, Kilwa, Lindi and Mikindani are announced in the decree to be the sole ports of export and import.

Fire in a factory building, 241 to 247 Center street, New York, resulted in a loss of $200,000. Two firemen were injured.

Members of the Kansas City council have been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of offering to accept bribes.

Over 800 houses were destroyed in a great fire at Yokosaka, Japan, Nov. 30. Three persons were burned to death.

Dr. John B. Hayes, a well known physician of New York, while walking down the street was attacked by highwaymen, who tried to rob him. He was struck with a brass knuckle and received a bad cut over the eye.

The newsboys and bootblacks of Pittsburg presented Christopher L. Magee, owner of The Times of that city, with a gold headed ebony cane.

The bodies of eight men which had lain in the South Wilkesbarre (Pa.) shaft since last March were brought out and identified.

A fire at Clinton prison, New York, destroyed a portion of the buildings, worth $200,000. There was almost a panic among the 370 prisoners, but all were transferred in safety to another part of the penitentiary.

A compilation of statistics on the growth of the southern states from 1880 to 1890 shows an increase of population of 19.9 per cent.; of actual wealth, 62.5 per cent., and of capital invested in manufacturing 20.7 per cent.

The wife of Lieut. Carnahan and her driver were drowned near Bennett, S. D., by the breaking of the ice in the Missouri river, which they were attempting to cross.

A band of White Caps called at the residence of Reuben Young, of Riverton, Pa., and took him out and gave him a lashing on New Year's eve.

Tied Hand and Foot and Robbed.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 13.—At an early hour Monday the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy depot was robbed, the operator being tied hand and foot. About $50 in money, numerous tickets and the telegrapher's watch were taken. The robber afterward stole a horse from a neighboring stable and escaped.

Seals in New York Harbor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—Within the last two weeks a large number of seals have been seen in and around the harbor disporting themselves. The boatmen at the Battery say that when it is a cold winter the seals always make their appearance in the bay, but rarely until ice appears.

Thirty Horses Burned to Death.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—The stables of the French Amusement company, a traveling circus located at 1030 State street, caught fire Monday morning and burned, entailing a loss of $40,000. About thirty horses were burned to death.

FATAL FOOLHARDINESS.

Nine Persons Drowned by Breaking Through the Ice on the Seine.

SPANIARDS IN A FERMENT.

Excitement Over Secretary Blaine's Demands in Connection with the Caroline Islands Affair—Fears that the United States Will Seize Cuba.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—A terrible accident by which nine foolhardy persons lost their lives occurred here today. The Seine, with the exception of the center of the river, has been frozen over for some time past. Yesterday the whole river was covered with ice, the middle of the stream, however, being hidden by what the police judged to be dangerously thin ice.

Consequently the authorities forbade people to attempt to cross the river, and the police were instructed to enforce the order. In spite of this a number of venturesome men and boys, utterly disregarding the warning cries of the police and of the crowds of people who were watching them, attempted to cross the Seine on the ice.

Nine Known to Have Been Drowned.

As they neared the middle of the stream dull, cracking reports were heard, causing a number of the foolhardy people to rush back to the sides of the river, where the ice was much thicker. Others, to show how daring they were, pressed on. Suddenly, with a long series of rumbling cracks, the ice gave way and precipitated a crowd of people into the freezing water.

Cries of horror and alarm arose from the banks as the police and life savers rushed to the scene of the disaster and did their utmost to save life. In spite of their efforts, and though a number of people were drawn from the river, nine persons are known to have been drowned.

Spain Agitated.

MADRID, Jan. 14.—Considerable excitement has been aroused in the capital by the news of Secretary Blaine's demand for satisfaction for the destruction of American missionary property in the Caroline islands. The government is deeply concerned about it, and the Liberals, now out of power, are rejoiced at the embarrassment of the ministry. It is feared that the United States may get up a pretext for seizing Cuba, and Spain is at present in no position for war, either by land or sea.

The Chilian Revolution Denied.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The Chilian minister to Great Britain, Senor Carlos Antunez, denied that there had been fighting in any part of Chili. There was, he said, no revolutionary movement in progress in that country. The present disturbances, the minister added, amount only to a protest against the illegal collection of taxes which have failed to receive the sanction of the legislative body for their levying. The army of Chili was loyal to the government, and but three vessels of the thirty-one which composed the national naval force had supported the opposition.

A Cruel and Bungling Execution.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—A society has been formed in England to advocate the repeal of capital punishment for women convicted of the highest crimes. The prejudice against the execution of women is very strong, and is gaining new force owing to the reports regarding the recent hanging of Mrs. Pearcy for killing Mrs. Hogg and the latter's child. It is said to have been a cruel and bungling execution, and reporters having been debarred, the officials have been able to conceal the exact facts from the public.

The Scotch Strike Critical Again.

GLASGOW, Jan. 14.—Many of the men who had returned to work for the North British railway have again joined the strikers. The situation is becoming critical. Mr. Tait, secretary of the strikers' union, declares that the men on the Glasgow and Southwestern railway have also decided to go out on strike again.

Won't Even Be Given a Trial.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Lutzski, who was arrested in connection with the attempt to wreck the czar's train at Borki, will be transported to Siberia without the formality of a trial. The extradition of Satcharisky, who is alleged to have been concerned in the Borki incident, has been demanded by the Russian government.

Another Royal Wedding.

MUNICH, Jan. 14.—Prince Alphonse of Bavaria, a cousin of the reigning sovereign, and also related to the royal house of Spain, is to marry the Princess Louise d'Alencon, daughter of the Duke d'Alencon, prince of the house of Orleans. The mother of the princess was Sophia, Duchess of Bavaria. The marriage will take place about the end of January.

Dillon to Be Leader.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—The Siecle makes the announcement that Mr. John Dillon will, upon his arrival in France, be designated as leader of the Irish National Parliamentary party.

Champion Donoghue Coming Home.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Joe Donoghue, the American champion skater, leaves for the United States by the steamer Germanic on Wednesday.

A Brute's Light Punishment.

GREEN BAY, Wis., Jan. 14.—Henry Hensel, of the town of Eaton, Brown county, Wis., has been sentenced to fourteen years in the penitentiary for the killing of his wife in August last. Hensel had frequently quarreled with his wife, and on Aug. 20 strangled her to death. He had only been married to her three months.

Killed by Striking a Bridge.

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—About 1 a. m. Tuesday Fred A. Dodge, aged 21, a brakeman on the outward bound freight train on the New York and New England railroad, was killed near Mt. Bowdoin station by coming in contact with a bridge.

Groceryman Tilford Dead.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—John M. Tilford, the founder of the large grocery firm of Park & Tilford, died Wednesday morning at his residence, 4 West Forty-ninth street. He had been ill for some time with a heart affection, and his death was due to a failure of that organ. He was 76 years of age.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The Jackson Park Terminal Looms Up as a Very Costly Affair.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The problem of getting the Illinois Central railroad track out of the way of that part of the World's fair to be located on the Lake Front was attacked last night with an ordinance introduced in the city council and made a special order for next Monday evening.

The ordinance provides for an underground arcade nearly two miles long, from Twenty-second street to Adams street, the whole to be sunk below the level of Michigan avenue, and to be located in land made by filling in a part of the harbor. The World's fair directors are authorized to offset the city's loan with any money voted to aid in the removal of the tracks.

The passenger transportation terminal at the main part of the exposition in Jackson park is looming up as a possibly very costly affair. Preliminary reports made yesterday by the committee of engineers to the directory committee on buildings and grounds recommend an elevated ten track loop, capable of moving 110,000 persons per hour.

The elevation is said to be made necessary by the fact that Jackson park is hemmed in by the lines of the Illinois Central, and a grade crossing is impracticable. The estimated expense of the loop is $1,900,000, not including an enormous outlay suggested for an equipment of cars and engines.

The governor of Wyoming has signed the bill appropriating $30,000 for Wyoming's exhibit at the exposition. The legislature of this young state is the first to make an appropriation for this purpose.

THE FIGHT MAY BE STOPPED.

A Battle to a Finish Is Contrary to Louisiana's Laws.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 14.—Attorney General Rogers and Governor Nicholls were in consultation yesterday to decide if the state had grounds to interfere in the Dempsey-Fitzsimmons mill upon the grounds that a glove contest could not be a fight to a finish or be so interpreted by the last legislature. They refused to be interviewed upon the consultation, but Attorney General Rogers was instructed to interview the mayor, and if he agreed to stop the fight before it became under the state's strict construction that a glove contest was only on points of skill, the state would not interfere.

The mayor stated that, though he was not in communication with the state authorities, he was in thorough accord with any plan to stop the fight, and would assist the state, if called upon, with the police. The attorney general stated that he would immediately take steps to forfeit the charter of the Olympic club and similar clubs on the grounds that they have violated the grant of the state and used their franchises to violate the laws of the state. It is evident that the state holds under any arrangement that the state laws are violated, and holding those grounds will act decisively.

Gilmore Awarded the Fight.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 14.—It took forty rounds to decide the fight between Jimmy Lindsay and Harry Gilmore at the South Omaha Athletic club rooms last night. Lindsay resorted to the most desperate and open methods of fouling Gilmore. The men were very evenly matched and both fought desperately. In the fortieth round Gilmore was awarded the fight.

In Senate and House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—In the senate Saturday a bill was passed extending the time for entry of lands under the forfeiture bill of last session. Conference report on the bill to carry out the act to divide the Sioux reservation was agreed to. Debate on the financial bill was continued, Mr. Morgan concluding his speech. Bills for buildings at Rockford, Ills., and Pueblo, Colo., were passed. In the house the army appropriation bill was debated at length without action. Eulogies on the late Representative Walker, of Missouri, consumed part of the afternoon.

Riotous Students in Naples.

NAPLES, Jan. 12.—For some time past a row has been brewing between the students and the officials of the university in this city. Saturday the trouble culminated in a riot, the students making a combined attack and smashing all the doors and windows in the university buildings. All lectures have been suspended. The students at the university number 1,000. The prefect is trying hard to pacify them and induce them to return to their studies.

Reiter Demands a Trial.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Commander Reiter, U. S. N., who was severely censured by the secretary of the navy for his conduct in the Barrundia affair, has written a letter to the secretary asserting that the censure was unjust, undeserved and unwarranted. He concludes by demanding a trial before a naval court.

New Haven Bankers Fail.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 12.—Henry L. Hill & Co., bankers and brokers, assigned Saturday. Their liabilities are $20,000. The face value of their assets is $75,000 to $100,000. Inability to realize on securities is stated as the cause of the failure.

Educated Indians Remain Loyal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—In response to a telegram from the commissioner of Indian affairs, who inquired of Elaine Goodale, supervisor of education at the Pine Ridge agency, how many returned students and parents of school children are among the hostiles, the supervisor says that it is impossible to ascertain just who the hostiles are, but in a general way it is safe to say that those who have participated in the ghost dance and subsequent disturbances are of the wild or heathen element among the Sioux. A great majority of the Christian and educated Indians have remained loyal at the sacrifice of name and property and at the risk of their lives.

Died in Frightful Agony.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Mrs. Mary Wagner, of Lake View, who has been suffering the most excruciating agonies from a dog bite since last Thursday afternoon, has died from exhaustion after a fit of raving and convulsions.

Returned and Pleads Guilty.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 14.—George M. Bartholomew, formerly the president of the Charter Oak Life Insurance company, who fled to Canada some years ago, returned voluntarily to Hartford Tuesday morning and appeared before Judge Fenn in the superior court and pleaded guilty to the embezzlement of $10,000, the proceeds of the Charter Oak Life Insurance company, which was discounted at the Hartford bank. The judge sentenced him to one year in state prison at Wethersfield, and he went there immediately. Bartholomew is past seventy years old and is in feeble health.

DEMANDS EXPLANATION

Secretary Blaine Investigating the Ponapi Island Outrage.

MISSIONARY RAND'S STORY.

He Says the Spanish Soldiers Seemed Bent on Malicious Destruction of Mission Property, and the Methodist Board of Foreign Missions Ask Reparation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Secretary Blaine has opened up a correspondence with the Spanish government, through the minister resident here, in regard to the alleged indignities offered American missionaries on the island of Ponapi, Caroline group, by Spanish soldiers. The basis upon which the correspondence is now going on is a demand by the American board of foreign missions of the Methodist church for reparation for indignities heaped upon their missionaries and for property destroyed. Capt. Taylor, of the Alliance, which has recently returned from the Caroline islands, in an official report to Secretary Tracy, confirms in all important details the treatment alleged to have been imposed upon the missionaries. This report is now in the hands of Secretary Blaine, together with that of the missionaries, and armed with these he will see that the treaty stipulations between Spain and the United States in regard to the Caroline Islands, which now seem to have been violated by Spanish soldiers, are observed in the future, and reparation made for the violation of the treaty, if after an explanation by the Spanish government it is decided that it has been violated. The matter causes some feeling in both state and navy department circles.

Missionary Rand's Statement.

BOSTON, Jan. 12.—The disclosures made of the indignities suffered by the American missionaries in the Caroline islands at the hands of the Spaniards have created much talk here, and the officers of the American board of foreign missions have been importuned to divulge additional particulars.

Missionary Rand, in a letter written on Nov. 6, describes the destruction of the mission property at Oua, as follows:

"The firing we heard Friday was at Oua. There were four war vessels around there. The shells destroyed a great many bread fruit and cocoanut trees. On Saturday a number of Spaniards landed at Oua. After a severe battle, most of it being on the flats while they were trying to land, they succeeded in burning most of the native houses, the church and school house, also all the mission houses.

Malicious Destruction of Mission Houses.

"They then hurried on board their ships, pulled up anchor and were off for the colony with the report that they had killed hundreds of natives, Paul, the king, and most of the leaders of the trouble included. They only killed three natives; a number were wounded. From all we can learn it seems that they maliciously destroyed every vestige of mission property. The houses were badly shattered before they applied the torch.

"I asked the governor before the trouble began if there was not danger that his men would burn our houses when they destroyed the native houses. He assured me it would be very easy for his soldiers to distinguish between a native house and a foreign one."

Mr. Rand's opinion is that the Spaniards will eventually give up the task of conquering the islands.

The Story Discredited.

MADRID, Jan. 12.—The governor of Manila, the capital of the island of Luzon and of all the Philippine islands, cables that he does not believe the news now published in connection with the troubles in the Caroline islands. He expresses the opinion that the reports which have just reached America are not founded on facts. There is, he says, a Spanish man-of-war permanently stationed at the Caroline islands, and he would have surely heard from the commander of that vessel if the trouble had been as serious as is now reported.

Parnell's Reception in Limerick.

DUBLIN, Jan. 12.—At nearly all the stoppages en route to Limerick Mr. Parnell was kindly greeted. At Limerick Junction he delivered an address to the crowd that had assembled at that place. He was favored with cheers, and more were given for O'Brien, accompanied with shouts that he might live long to soothe the existing animosities. At Limerick Mr. Parnell met with an enthusiastic reception. He spoke from the window of the hotel at which he stopped. He said the receptions he had met with imposed grave responsibilities that would remain until Ireland was righted. He criticised severely the actions of the priesthood. He declared himself as fully satisfied with the results of his interviews with Mr. O'Brien. The only hostile demonstration Parnell met with was at Oola, where his sympathizers were driven off by the McCarthyites.

Had Been on Duty Fifty Hours.

POUGHKEEPSIE, Jan. 12.—Before daylight Saturday morning the signals north of New Hamburg tunnel, on the Hudson River railroad, were turned red. The engineer of the stock train, bound south, saw the warning and stopped his train. Behind that train, two miles north, was a fast freight, also going south. The engineer of the stock train, E. Best, was asleep. The conductor, Oscar Chase, was on the cupola of his caboose. He saw the fast freight coming, and supposed it would stop, but it crashed into his caboose, and he was caught and had to be cut out of the wreck. One leg was broken and his head was hurt. Four or five cars were derailed and afterward thrown out on the ice in the river and burned. Engineer Best said he had been on duty nearly fifty hours and was worn out.

Mutinied on Shipboard.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The steamer Yucatan, of the New York and Cuba line, arrived here today from Havana with seven of the crew of the American bark Matanzas, who mutinied while the vessel was at Matanzas taking in a load of sugar. The mutineers were taken charge of by the United States authorities.

Two of Her Crew Lost.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Jan. 13.—The schooner Monitor, from the Banks, reports that the schooner Nellie G. Thurston lost two of her crew by the capsizing of a dory.

BROOKLYN, Conn., May 5, '90.
DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.:
Sirs:—Last Summer I cured a Curb upon my horse with your celebrated Kendall's Spavin Cure and it was the best job I ever saw done. I have a dozen empty bottles, having used it with perfect success, curing every thing I tried it on. My neighbor had a horse with a very bad spavin that made him lame. He asked me how to cure it. I recommended Kendall's Spavin Cure. He cured the Spavin in just three weeks.
Yours respectfully,
WOLCOTT WITTER.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 4, '90.
DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.:
Dear Sirs:—I have been selling more of Kendall's Spavin Cure and Flint's Condition Powders than ever before. One man said to me, it was the best Powder I ever kept and the best he ever used.
Respectfully,
OTTO L. HOFFMAN.

CHITTENANGO, N. Y., May 19, '90.
DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.,
Dear Sirs:—I have used several bottles of your Kendall's Spavin Cure with perfect success, on a valuable and blooded mare that was quite lame with a Bone Spavin. The mare is now entirely free from lameness and shows no knuck on the joint.
Respectfully, F. H. HUTCHINS.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE.

MONROE, La., May 8, '90.
DR. B. J. KENDALL CO.,
Gents:—I think it my duty to render you my thanks for your far famed Kendall's Spavin Cure. I had a four year old filly which I prized very highly. She had a very severe swollen leg. I tried about eight different kinds of medicines which did no good. I purchased a bottle of your Kendall's Spavin Cure which cured her in four days.
I remain yours,
MARION DOWDEY.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. All druggists have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL CO., Enosburgh Falls, Vermont.

PARNELL DECIDEDLY AHEAD.

Unless the McCarthyites Yield O'Brien Will Stay in the Parnell Camp.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The week opens on the Irish situation with Mr. Parnell decidedly ahead, but with Nationalist unity still unaccomplished.

Every day's developments strengthen the belief that Mr. O'Brien has come to the conclusion that if home rule is to be saved the McCarthyites must stand ready to make some concessions as well as Mr. Parnell. This they at present seem disinclined to do. In case they should permanently refuse to accept the temporary retirement of their old leader, the McCarthy organs admit that Mr. O'Brien will be forced to remain in the Parnell camp.

The reception of Messrs. Healey and Berry in Paris was not of a cordial character, and they, with Messrs. McCarthy, Sexton and Condon, returned in so dejected a mood that it is doubtful whether they or any others of their party will attend any future Boulogne conferences. Mr. O'Brien's movements will probably be decided by the result of his expected interview with Mr. Dillon.

Swept by an Ice Freshet.

BIRMINGHAM, Conn., Jan. 13.—For the first time since the Housatonic dam was built, several years ago, an ice freshet occurred Sunday, partially sweeping away the railroad bridge of the Derby extension road between Shelton and Derby. Immense cakes of ice came down over the dam, and passing under the carriage bridge struck the piling of the railroad bridge, breaking these supports like pipestems. The whole structure will probably fall into the river. All passenger trains have been discontinued, and no trains will be able to run for several days. Other minor damage has been done, but the railroad is the chief loser. The pecuniary damage will amount to from $10,000 to $15,000.

Money Packages Stolen.

JACKSONVILLE, Ills., Jan. 13.—During the temporary absence of its agent the office of the Pacific Express company at this place was broken into by burglars and ten or twelve money packages carried away. As they were transfer packages, and the way bills were also stolen, it was impossible to state the amount of money secured. There is no clew to the perpetrators as yet. Officers of the company are in the city investigating the matter.

A Blizzard in Illinois.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—Dispatches from southern Illinois state that a regular blizzard raged in that part of the state. Anna, Ills., reports the heaviest snow storm seen there for three years, the snow being over eight inches deep. Duquoin also reports a depth of eight inches. As it has been very dry for some time in that section of the state the snow will be of very great benefit, and especially to the wheat crop, which now promises to be good.

The Roberts Iron Works in Ruins.

CAMBRIDGEPORT, Mass., Jan. 14.—Fire was discovered at 5:35 Monday morning in the Roberts Iron works, one of the finest plants of that kind in New England. Before the firemen could get down to work, the whole building was enveloped in flames and was soon destroyed. The fine engines, boilers, etc., were a mass of twisted iron. The loss will reach $75,000.

BRIEF MENTION.

A syndicate, it is said, in Boston has got control of half the Para rubber, and is endeavoring to buy up all the rubber in the world.

John Tierney was killed while attempting to replace a globe in an incandescent electric lamp in Boston.

John Cronin, a small boy aged 15, was found as a stowaway on the Pacific Mail steamer Newport, outward bound, at Sandy Hook. Cronin and five others had beaten their way from San Francisco, and were on their way back, but became separated in New York, whereupon Cronin took to the Newport.

The women who took a prominent part in aiding the People's party in Kansas now claim as a reward for their efforts that state suffrage should be extended to their sex.

A collision on the New York Elevated railroad tumbled a motor from the track to the street below. Engineer Metz was injured.

The steamer Brittania and the steamer Bear collided in the Firth of Forth. The Bear immediately sank, and twelve of her crew were drowned. The Brittania sank after transferring her passengers to another vessel, and her chief engineer was drowned.

The 13-year-old son of Councilman J. D. Sullivan, of Lynchburg, Va., was killed by touching a guy wire running to an electric light pole, which was charged with electricity.

Advices from Boulogne are to the effect that Mr. O'Brien has practically gone over to Mr. Parnell, and that Mr. McCarthy and the other anti-Parnellite leaders have violently disagreed with Mr. O'Brien.

The American Express company's car, bound for New York on the Michigan Central railroad, was entered by road men and ransacked just before the train arrived at Detroit. The job was most skillfully done.

A committee of the locked out operatives of Clark's thread mills has issued an appeal for aid.

Louis Eugene Charpentier, the well known French painter, is dead.

The reports from the patients undergoing the lymph treatment at New Haven are of the most favorable character. The one who is suffering from lupus shows the greatest improvement.

The trial of Michael Eyraud and his former mistress, Gabrielle Bompard, for the murder of Notary Gouffe, was continued in the assize court in Paris. Eyraud persisted in his statement that Mlle. Bompard conceived the details of the crime, and that she passed the noose around the victim's neck while the latter was fondling her at her home. Mlle. Bompard denied all of Eyraud's statements, and claims that the part she took in the crime was due to the hypnotic influence exerted over her by Eyraud.

A suit to break the will of eccentric Inventor Irwin, of Morton, who left his fortune to his fiancee, was tried at Media, Pa., and won by his second wife's sister.

A strong flow of natural gas was struck while prospecting for coal at Newton Center, Pa., five miles from Scranton.

At Indianapolis the grand jury called witnesses in relation to the charge that Attorney General Miller had violated the postal laws. The man to whom the alleged "franked" letter was addressed testified that it bore a stamp when he received it.

The greatest improvement in Corsets during the past twenty years is the use of Coraline in the place of horn or whalebone. It is used in all of Dr. Warner's Corsets and in no others.

The advantages of Coraline over horn or whalebone are that it does not become set like whalebone, and it is more flexible and more durable.

Dr. Warner's Coraline Corsets are made in twenty-four different styles, fitting every variety of figures—thin, medium, stout, long waists and short waists.

—Nice shoulder, 9½ cents per pound at the Eureka Cash grocery.

—Sixteen pounds of soft White sugar or $1 at the Eureka Cash Grocery.

—Does the air you breathe taste different under a democratic government?

—Subscriptions are being added to this paper every day.

—Mr. A. J. Griest makes frequent flying trips to Bellefonte.

—The sheep-killing dogs are now en rampant in Huntingdon county.

—The county commissioners did not send a man to Mabaffey after all.

—It looks very bad for "Lou," the finding of his tools in Sechler's store.

—Register John Rupp made a business trip to Philipsburg on Wednesday.

—It won't be long before the Easter bonnet will be getting ready to bloom.

—The late fall of snow will seriously interfere with the coasting in Bellefonte.

—The spring election falls on Tuesday, February 10, two weeks from Tuesday next.

—Sliced ham at the Eureka Cash grocery, High street, Bellefonte, next door to post office.

—The snow shovel brigade made its appearance before church time on Sunday morning.

—Those ugly holes have been plastered shut in the ceiling of the room occupied by the post office.

—The finest breakfast bacon, 11 cents per pound at the Eureka Cash grocery, next door to post office.

—17 pounds of brown sugar for $1.00 at the Eureka Cash grocery, High street, next door to post office.

—Fifteen pounds of fine granulated sugar for $1 at the Eureka Cash Grocery, High street, Bellefonte, Pa.

—The old incandescent electric lights have been removed from the radius lighted by the new arc light.

—Quite a large sleighing party went on Thursday to Old Fort Hotel and took dinner at Mr. John Odenkirk's.

—Lock Haven is to have a new industry to be called the "Peacock Coal and Fire Clay Manufacturing Company."

—It is remarkable how many persons there are who are opposed to shoveling the snow off their pavements on a Sunday.

—Never in the history of the Republican party was a county order dishonored by the county treasurer. They are now.

—The meetings now held nightly in the Presbyterian church continue to grow in interest. May the good work prosper.

—The county auditors will soon complete their work and then the report will be ready to go into the hands of the printer.

—Col. J. L. Spangler, L. A. Schaeffer and others who attended the Pattison inauguration on Tuesday returned home yesterday.

—E. R. Chambers, Esq., looks very nice through those large glass windows in his new office opposite the court house yard.

—There is now every appearance of more snow. And it is needed to keep up the good sleighing as it is getting thin in some places.

—It is stated that Mr. W. F. Reber has accepted the Assistant Secretaryship to the Secretary of State, with a salary of $1,800 per annum.

—W. Scott Wilson fairly captivated a large Tyrone audience on Tuesday evening with his lecture "Down at the Gates, or Life's Crisis Hours."

—Who knows Robert Anderson? Any of our readers will confer a favor by informing this office of his whereabouts, if they know it.

A veritable London fog Wednesday morning. It was so thick in the lower parts of town that the natural expansion of it made sliding up hill easy work.

—Mr. W. B. Krape, late candidate for Auditor on the Republican ticket, and who hails from Spring Mills, was in Bellefonte on Wednesday.

—Williamsport has gone up head. It now has a female banker—Mrs. Geo. L. Sanderson, elected a member of the board of the Williamsport National.

—In Lock Haven arc lights are put up for $5 per month. In Bellefonte they have been started at just double that price. A material difference, don't you think?

—The desk at which Governor Beaver sat for the four years arrived in Bellefonte the other day and is now part of the furniture of his office in this place.

—Col. J. L. and Mrs. Spangler entertained a small number of intimate friends in a select little dinner party on Wednesday evening. It was a pleasant occasion.

—Arbuckles' coffee at 25 cents per pound and all other goods in proportion. Call and be convinced. Eureka Cash grocery, High street, next door to post office.

—If you want good job work done call at this office. New type, new inks, new appliances, and new styles being received every little while. Bring your job in and give us a trial.

—District Attorney J. C. Meyer will occupy one of Joseph Brothers new houses on Curtin street during the coming year. Mr. Meyer is going into a good neighborhood.

—It is said that D. F. Fortney, Esq., made a very entertaining speech at the Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening. Mr. Fortney is the man who can do such a thing if once started.

—What is more delightful than to have a railroad engine stop right in front of your window and about every thirty seconds blow off steam at about two hundred pounds pressure?

—Treasurer Gramley was out on Howard street on Friday night coasting. He was a little timid at first but after a few trials he stood up like an old veteran and even said it was delightful.

—Daniel Dougherty is coming to Bellefonte to serve a client and W. E. Gray, Esq., goes to New York to serve one. Will made a journey to that city last Thursday returning on Saturday.

—It is more than likely that Mr. Hamilton Otto will set up the cigars—good ones too—to every man that will go in there today. His wife presented him last night with a twelve pound young lady.

—A vestibule has been made by the erection of a partition and inside glass doors, at the entrance to the bank of Jackson, Crider and Hastings. It adds greatly to the appearance, but vastly more to the comfort of the building.

—The store of W E Hendrixson is advertised to be sold at Sheriff's sale on Friday the 23rd instant. This is one of the results of the closing of the Centre Iron Company's works, by which Mr. Hendrixson lost several hundred dollars.

—The marble firm of Houserville, has been reorganized. Mr. John F. Wasson retires from the firm and Mr. S. B. Wasson goes in. The firm is now composed of J. B. Mayes and S. B. Wasson. May they have as good success as the old firm.

—Next week the January term of court opens. There are not very many cases up for trial. The coming session is when Wilson was to have been tried but it looks now as if he wouldn't be. The second week of court promises to be a very busy one.

Mr. John P Gerz, a traveling agent for Lippincott & Co., publishers of Philadelphia, stopped over in Bellefonte on Friday while on his way home from Texas, to the Quaker city. He will spend the time until this evening with his friend, Mr. G W Rees.

—The report that Governor Beaver will himself run the nail works in this place, after a few weeks of recreation, and that his son Gilbert will manage the plant seems to be a little premature. "The Governor seems to know nothing of it himself," said a friend of his on Saturday.

—Tuesday's Pittsburg Times says: "I N. Gordon, a well known lawyer of Bellefonte, was at the Monongahela House yesterday." There isn't a man in Bellefonte who does not have lawyer, doctor, general, colonel or something of the kind attached to his name if he journeys fifty miles east or west of this place. It is the reputation of the place for furnishing 'big' men that does it.

—Ever since ex-Sheriff Woodring has been acting second deputy to Sheriff Ishler he has acted as if he were Sheriff, and now he even seems to think he owns half the town and can dictate to others what they should do and how to do it, Sheriff Ishler had better soon appoint his deputy and discharge Woodring or the latter might imagine he was the whole court and jury and the Centre county commissioners thrown in.

—At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening, James Schofield was elected as a trustee. It is not to be contradicted but what Mr. Schofield will make a good official, especially if he becomes as earnest in church work as he sometimes gets in politics.

—County treasurer J. J. Gramley says he don't intend to buy a house every year of the three that his term will last in order to live in Bellefonte, but instead, will buy a lot and build himself a house. If he don't get a place at a reasonable rent inside of two weeks he will at once go to work to build.

—We have been requested by members of the Logan Fire Engine company to say in explanation of the reason they were so long in getting up steam on Friday night that owing to their having had the engine out in the afternoon it had not yet been "charged," hence it took so long to get up sufficient steam.

—A young man, who had evidently been taking too much "John Barleycorn," made his appearance in the District Attorney's office on Thursday and wanted Mr. Meyer to arrest a certain man because he had fed his mules nothing but hay for the past six weeks. The District Attorney declined to take hold of the case.

—It is stated that negotiations are pending between the Y M C A officials and the W C T U relative to the transfer of the rooms, library, gymnasium and all the belongings of the former organization to the Women's Christian Temperance Union on condition that they pay off the indebtedness of the former. The ladies are undecided what to do.

—On the first of February Messrs. W. F. Hillibish and Harry Jenkins, under the firm name of W. T. Hillibish & Co., will open a plumber's shop in the room under Gillam's shoe store in Crider's Exchange. And when Mr. Gillam closes out his shoe store, which will probably be in March, the new firm will occupy that room with a full line of hardware supplies. Here's success to you, gents.

—Some persons in this world are brutes in human guise. They have no more idea of how to take care of children than the man in the moon. This morning, cold as it was, a little girl was left in a sled standing on one of the up town streets while its father went into a store. He remained so long that the child almost perished with cold and cried for quite a long time until some stranger took her in the store to warm. Such inhumanity should have some punishment.

—At seven o'clock on Saturday evening it rained; at eight it snowed; at nine it rained, at ten it snowed, at eleven it rained and on Sunday morning there was a foot of snow to shovel off the pavements. And the snow fell in a good time as the sleighing was getting a little thin in some places but this will fix it up. The heavy wind of Sunday blew the snow and drifted the roads shut in many places throughout the valleys. Trains were run on Sunday to open and keep open the railroad tracks so that traffic might not be delayed to day.

A Pretty Wedding.

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. J P Charles at No. 412 Eighth avenue, Altoona, Pa., was the scene of a pretty and stylish wedding at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, January 15th. The occasion of the marriage of their beautiful and accomplished daughter, Mary V., and Mr. Louis C Jones of Philipsburg, Centre Co. Pa. The bride wore a beautiful gown of rich cream satin and crepe and carried in her hand a huge bouquet of long stemmed cream roses.

Her only ornaments were a handsome necklace and a diamond ring.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R H Colburn, pastor of the Fifth Avenue M E Church in the presence of a large company of invited guests from Altoona, Philipsburg, Tyrone and other places. The bride was the recipient of many handsome and costly presents. The groom is an excellent young man of fine personal appearance and has shown good judgment in his choice of a companion.

An elaborated supper, amid a profusion of flowers and smilax, (table decorations) was served immediately after congratulations were over, at the conclusion of which Mr. and Mrs. Jones followed by the best wishes of their many friends, departed on a late train for an extended trip to eastern cities.

AN ENVIABLE RECORD.

VALUABLE WORK DONE BY ADJUTANT GENERAL HASTINGS.

Was Instrumental in Having New Laws Passed.—Secured New And More Modern Equipment for the Soldiers.—His Term a Model One and He a Good Model Official.—Some Things He Did.

By this time Daniel Hardman Hastings is ex-Adjutant General of Pennsylvania. His successor may be a worthy and able man but he can study the record of General Hastings during the past four years and find much therein to pattern after. Mr. Hastings' record as Adjutant General stands far above the record of any such previous official. It was his aim to improve the State soldiery and work for the interest of the boys in blue, and how well he succeeded is shown in the following brief of what he was instrumental in having done, which we copy from the Sunday issue of the Philadelphia Times:

Adjutant General D. H. Hastings will be succeeded next Tuesday by Captain W. H. McClelland, while not connected with the National Guard, has always taken a deep interest in the organization, and is himself a soldier with an honorable record, having commanded Battery H, Pennsylvania Light Artillery, a portion of the celebrated Pennsylvania Reserve Corps, during the war.

The last four years have formed one of the most active and remarkable periods in the history of the National Guard since its organization in 1877. The first important event in the administration of General Hastings was the passage of the law which is now commonly designated as the military code. This law received the unanimous vote of the Legislature of 1887, having been passed early in the term.

Under the old law the only appropriation for the support of the Guard was $220,000, which has been increased to $300,000. The term of service of enlisted men has also been made three years instead of five years, and it is worthy of note that the regular army has adopted the three years' term of service since it became the law of this State.

All disbursements of moneys are now restricted by legislative enactment and provision made for proper and faithful accounting for the same. The period of the annual encampment was increased from not exceeding eight days to not exceed fourteen days; pay of the troops at the annual encampments was increased from not exceeding five days' pay, to pay for each day in camp, and a service pay of 25 cents per day to each enlisted man is now allowed for each term of service completed. After each encampment the troops have been paid within at least three days from the termination of the camp, and at the last division encampment, at Mount Gretna, every organization whose rolls were completed was paid before the troops left the field. During the last four years a number of regimental and company armories have been erected and others are new in course of erection. Notable among these are the splendid armories of the First and Third Regiments, in Philadelphia, and the Ninth Regiment, at Wilkesbarre. The project for a fine armory for the Eighteenth Regiment, of Pittsburg, is also well under way.

During the last four years the entire guard has been provided with the new 45-calibre Springfield breech-loading rifle muskets at a cost of about $106,000. The guard has also been provided with additional canvas, costing about $14,000, which is amply sufficient for all requirements, enabling the men to occupy the tents while in camp without crowding. Canvas houses for the horses have also been furnished at a cost of about $5,000. A uniform blanket was adopted, which is now kept at the arsenal, and when regiments require blankets they are furnished with the regulation article, so that in time the entire Guard will have the same color, weight and quality of blanket.

The new rifle range at Mount Gretna was completed in 1888 and is acknowledged to be the best rifle range in the country. It has been in almost constant use during the rifle practice season and has been of great value. Each fall the teams selected for the various organizations assemble at the range, encamping there for days, at which time the regiment and brigade matches are held. The owner of the grounds, Robert H. Coleman, has furnished the grounds free of charge, and in addition has a standing prize of five hundred dollars to the best teams, which is awarded annually to those winning.

The full strength of the Guard is now about 8,300, the number having been reduced somewhat by the disbandment of companies whose qualifications were not up to the advanced standard. During no other Gubernational term has there been held more than one division encampment on account of the increasing expense, but during the last four years two division encampments were held, the first in 1887, and the last in 1890. The encampment of 1888 was by brigades and that of 1889 by regiments. At the first division encampment the division was reviewed by the late Lieutenant General Sheridan and received from him words of highest praise. The last encampment was honored by a visit from President Harrison and his Cabinet and General Schofield and his Staff. A new feature introduced into the encampments of 1889 and 1890 was the intermingling of regulars with the State troops.

Band Association.

M. Doyle Marks, of Renovo, suggests the organization of an association of all the bands of Central Pennsylvania, meaning by the word "central" the bands of Clinton, Centre, Lycoming, Cameron, Elk and Clearfield counties, the object being the advancement of a fraternal feeling among the musicians of the district named and the holding of an annual festival at which all the bands would compete for the championship of the Association.

Mr. Doyle in imagination sees twenty or thirty bands in one town at the same time doing this, and making said town resound with music. We give the suggestion for what it is worth, but desire to make the request that all these bands shall not station themselves under our window at the same time and then expect us to shove out a five dollar bill to each man, besides furnishing the cakes and lager beer. You see even our Jay Gould-ish fortune couldn't stand that you know.—Lock Haven Democrat.

It would be kind of nice to have an association as above and it is self-evident that should such an organization be made Centre county would head the list so far as proficient blowers are concerned. All that is needed now is for some one to set the ball a rollin.' And now Mr. Doyle Marks, of Renovo, are you prepared to make the first move?

A SAD DEATH.

Mrs. C. M. Garman Dies Suddenly on Saturday Evening.

A very sad affair is death at all times, but when it occurs under such circumstances as did the death of Mrs. C. M. Garman, on Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, it is doubly sad. Always in good health, full of life and spirits, she will be greatly missed by a large circle of admiring friends. Mrs. Garman's critical condition was first noticed on Friday afternoon and all that it was possible for medical aid to do was done but without avail and her sufferings ended at the time above stated. A loving husband and three small children are left to mourn their loss. The oldest child is five years of age and the youngest but an infant of 10 days. A fourth child died about one year ago.

Mrs. Garman's maiden name was Crotty. There survive her three sisters—Mrs. Joseph Ceaders, Mrs. Martin Cooney and Mrs. Robert Gilmore, and two brothers—Michael Crotty, of Boiling Springs, and James Crotty, now in New York. David, another brother, died in the Altoona hospital last October.

The funeral of Mrs. Garman will occur to-morrow at 9.30 o'clock.

The Hopkins Bereavement.

Albert, the interesting six year old son of Hon. A C Hopkins, Congressman elect from this district, died Friday night last at the Continental Hotel in Philadelphia, of malignant scarlet fever. The remains arrived here today on news express, in charge of Mr. Weymouth, the partner of Mr. Hopkins, who happened to be in Philadelphia at the time. The body was taken to Highland cemetery and placed in a vault for the time being, private funeral services being held over all that is mortal of the dear little fellow, who had been sick only since Sunday. The other and younger little brother, was taken sick first, but has fair prospects of recovery. Mr. Hopkins himself has been quite ill, but is now better, although unable to accompany the remains home. The death of his son is a terrible blow to both him and Mrs. H. and they have the heart felt sympathy of many friends. —Lock Haven Democrat.

NEW RELIGIOUS CYCLOPEDIA—Wanted. An intelligent lady or gentleman to introduce our new "Concise Cyclopedia of Religious Knowledge" to the attention of the Christian people of Bellefonte and vicinity. Nearly 1000 pages. Handsomely illustrated. Over 5000 titles Grandest religious reference book ever published. Sells splendidly. For terms address A. J. Potter, Manager, 3 East 14th St., N. Y.

Meetings will Continue.

We have been requested to announce that the meetings in the Presbyterian Chapel will continue all of this week and until further notice. All are invited to attend these services. The meetings continue with unabated earnestness. The solo singing of Mr. Voris on last Friday night is very highly spoken of by all who heard it.

Religion and Temperance.

Truly there seems to be a general revival of good throughout this entire valley. First the good work began with a temperance revival in the court house in this place at which time over three hundred persons signed the pledge of total abstinence. A temperance club was organized, rooms were engaged and fitted up, which are kept open every night until ten o'clock, and there the good work has been continued. Every week there are some new members join last Thursday evening fifteen persons added their names to the list. And thus the good work is going on. The temperance people of Bellefonte have reason to congratulate themselves and feel gratified over the fight they are now making against the saloon. May the good work never grow less.

In religion, as well as temperance, there seems to have been, and still is, a general awakening everywhere. It began when Rev. G. P. Sarvis held his meetings at the red school house about six weeks ago. The entire church was greatly revived and many made professions of religion. Then at Pleasant Gap, in Milesburg, at Lemont and at both the M. E. and Presbyterian churches in this place the good work has been, and is now, carried with undiminished earnestness. Scores of persons have found light in the darkness and turned from serving Satan to working for the Master. Many have joined the various churches, and especially become members of the Presbyterian church in this place. In the M E Church meetings are held afternoon and evening, And thus the good work goes on and from the hearts of all goes up a hearty "May God prosper them."

Amusement Notes.

GO-WON-GO MOHAWK.

The next performance in the opera house will be on Friday evening, the 23, when the great Indian actress will appear. Read what the press says of her:

Go-won-go Mohawk, the Indian actress, appeared at Jacobs' Third Avenue theatre last night. A large audience greeted her when the curtain rose on the first act of her play, 'The Indian Mail Carrier.' The play was a sensational drama of the western type. The star played the part of a boy, Wep-ton-no-mah, who is left an orphan through the murder of his father, and who is reared by Col. Stockton, a wealthy ranchman and a friend of the boy's father. After making a will, leaving all his property to the Indian boy and disinheriting his dissolute nephew, an army captain, Col. Stockton is murdered by the hand which struck down the Indian chief. The Indian boy devotes his life to avenging the two murders. The play is the best of the kind seen at the Third Avenue Theatre. The climax is in the third act, when Spanish Joe, the villain of the play, and Wep-ton-no-mah meet and engage in a duel with knives.

The comedy characters of the play are much better than is usual in plays of this character. Billie Evans, as Sam White, a darkey, has plenty to do and does it well. His negro dialect is very good. The star was several times called before the curtain

Sale Bills and Other Job Work.

We have just received a fine lot of cuts, border rule, new display type, ect., for use in the printing of sale bills and we can now offer you a superior job at heretofore unheard of prices. The lowest in the county for the best work. Give us a trial and be convinced. We also have received a new supply of type, ornaments, ect., used for and in all kinds of commercial printing and we can now offer you a superior job—equal to any city work—at city prices. Also, if you have any books to print just bear in mind that we are prepared to do book work neater and with more dispatch than any other two offices in the county. We can put up 100 pages of book without tearing down a line. We print books at city prices for city terms—cash on completion of work. j19.tf.

The Voice of the Laity.

Four hundred thousand votes have been cast by the members of the Methodist church, on the question of admitting women as delegates to the General Conference. Three-fifths of these votes were in the affirmative. The clergy will next take a hand in the matter, and it will be necessary for three-fourths of them to favor it, after which the General conference must vote upon it, and two-thirds of that body must concur with the clergy and laity to bring the matter safely through. Success to the cause.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.
